

GOVERNMENT TO ATTACK CHIEF DEFENSE CLAIM

CHARGE THAT LEASE WAS GIVEN TO SAVE SUPPLY IS TARGET

Geological Expert Will Testify To Refute Claim

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Claims of the defense in the oil conspiracy trial that the lease on Teapot Dome naval reserve given Harry F. Sinclair by former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall was prompted by knowledge and fear that the reserve would be drained by borderland wells if it was not operated were due for an onslaught from government counsel today.

Owen Roberts, federal counsel, planned to place Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey, and other technicians on the stand to testify there was no danger of drainage at the time the allegedly fraudulent lease was consummated, and that such knowledge was available to Fall.

Before Smith is reached, however, the government and defense must finish with Judge E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of interior, who was still undergoing direct examination when court adjourned yesterday. Finney's testimony has been damaging to the defense in that it would tend to show Fall, and Fall alone, as the master mind in the making of the Teapot Dome lease—a fact which is denied by the former secretary. Defense lawyers undoubtedly will subject him to a long cross-examination. The following trial is expected to be watched with keen interest by the public, and the defense is expected to be watched with keen interest by the public, and the defense is expected to be watched with keen interest by the public.

DANCER KILLED IN FALL FROM WINDOW

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Earl Johnson, of Kansas City, was reported en route to New York today to arrange plans for the funeral of his eighteen-year-old daughter, Jane, a dancer, who was killed yesterday when she fell from the window of an apartment she occupied with her mother on the twelfth floor of the Hotel Claridge.

Miss Johnson's body, attired in green silk pajamas and slippers, landed on a shed in the rear of the hotel.

Her mother, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, said her daughter had fainted while taking her setting-up exercises near a window and fell into the courtyard. Mrs. Johnson was in the bathroom at the time.

The body was removed to Campbell's funeral parlors.

Miss Johnson came here three years ago. She had appeared in musical comedies and of late had been employed as a ballet dancer by a motion picture theater at $300 a week.

FLOGGING VICTIM WHIPPED BY WIFE?

KENT, O., Oct. 20.—A statement to the effect that Alfred Harris, Kent furniture dealer, who claims he was kidnapped and flogged by a band of masked men, August 31, was in reality beaten by his wife, in his own home, had been made public here today.

Mayor W. I. Harves, who issued the statement, said it had been obtained from John Foray, who formerly lived at the Harris home and who claims that Harris confessed to him.

Harris, when told of the story declared there was no truth in it. He contends that he was beaten by eight men who tried to take him from him a petition which he was circulating at that time requesting Governor Donahay to investigate the Kent Police Department.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Willie Mack, 23, who won a $3,675 judgment against a policeman who interrupted Mrs. Mack and her husband while they were engaged in a "petting party" in a parked automobile, learned today that her award had been reduced.

Common Pleas Judge Abel C. Risinger, of Eaton, O., who tried the case, announced late yesterday that he would reduce the amount awarded Mrs. Mack to $2,200. Police Sergeant Frank L. Rolfs, against whom the judgment was rendered, has asked for a new trial.

RUSSIAN SOUGHT IN MURDER OF WIFE OF AMERICAN IN PARIS

Boston Professor Blames Love Cult Associations.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—A Russian friend was being sought by French police today in connection with the murder at Nice of Mrs. Horace Lord, of Fall River, Mass. Jealousy was believed by police to have been the motive.

Mrs. Lord, who was formerly Marcelle Vernet, daughter of Count Gustave Vernet, was found stabbed through the heart.

She had been separated from her husband for several years and had achieved some fame as a violinist.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Horace Lord, Boston school principal, declared today that the murder of his wife in Nice, France, resulted from her associations with a love cult colony in Paris and her admiration for the late Isadora Duncan.

Cable dispatches yesterday told of Mrs. Lord being found stabbed through the heart.

Lord, son of a prominent Fall River family and principal of the Industrial School for Crippled and Deformed Children, wept when informed of the tragic death of his wife and when he told of his belief of the circumstances, which might have brought about her end.

Advices from France told of a Russian who is under suspicion for the crime. Lord declared his wife had written him recently of such a man—an accomplished violinist, she said—and that she had met him through the famous dancer, Isadora Duncan.

He denied that he and his wife had separated and produced weekly love-letters which he said he had received in the last few months.

Lord said he had met "Mimi", as he called his wife, during the war and had married her in France. Sighing, he added:

"Life is queer. Only a moment before I was notified of her death I took her wedding ring gift from my finger and laid it in a box. I felt an inward conviction that something had happened to my wife; I just knew it."

"Queer, isn't it? But I'm not surprised; life is that way."

"And so Mimi, my bride, my wife, is slain. I knew something terrible was coming—and here it is."

The husband said Mrs. Lord had preferred life in France but had planned an early visit to Boston. He said he had visited France last summer to induce her to return with him but she had refused.

"I used every argument in my appeal to her," Lord said, "but it was all futile. She was even then in the hands of the fate that brought catastrophe so frequently into Miss Duncan's life. We knew Miss Duncan well and it was at the dancer's wish that my wife played the black death fugue at Miss Duncan's funeral."

Justice Bausman charged in drastic language that English financiers had invaded the United States, had implanted insidious propaganda in American institutions and had brought about a decided warping in the minds of American youth for two major reasons—cancellation of the war debt and second, the desire to make the United States a Great Britain colony.

Bausman praised the stand taken by Mayor Thompson who has frankly charged McAndrew with being "King George's stool pigeon" and with having poisoned the text-books of Chicago schools in favor of England.

Other than his commendation of Thompson, Bausman did not once allude to the alleged conditions in Chicago schools but confined his address to a tirade against England and English ideas present in the United States today.

"England beguiled us into war," stated Bausman, "took all the spoils of it and then didn't want to pay her debts."

"Sympathies in America, social climbers with marriageable daughters, have sickly aided Great Britain's cause."

"Not only our schools are surcharged with this deadly English influence but libraries and literature have been used as weapons against the American public. This is not a nebulous thing, a natural thing that has grown between nations of a mother tongue, but the deliberate work of human minds, aided by financiers of England who seek the full cancellation of England's war debt to the United States and the placing of the Union Jack wherever now flies the Stars and Stripes."

The Synod went on record at its session yesterday as urging the support and development of churches in rural communities.

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Oct. 20.—The hopper of Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson's amphibian plane, "The Dawn," to Copenhagen, Denmark, was again postponed for at least twenty-four hours today because of continued adverse winds at sea.

Indications were that unless a radical change in the weather occurred before Sunday the flight would be definitely postponed until next spring. Such an announcement was expected to follow the arrival here today of Igor Sikorsky, builder and designer of the plane. Strong northeast and east winds continued today over the course to be followed by the plane, according to weather reports received from the Chatham station of the Radio Corporation of America. However, Mrs. Grayson looked for a change to favorable winds tomorrow or Saturday.

Tests of the landing gear and distribution of load were to be made today under the personal supervision of Sikorsky.

UNITED STATES HAS WAR OF PROPAGANDA WITH BRITISH, SAID

Ex-Jurist Attacks Al- leged Effort To Save War Debt

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—England is now engaged in a war with the United States, employing nationwide pro-British propaganda rather than bombs and bullets, declared former Supreme Court Justice Frederick Bausman of the state of Washington, who testified in the trial here of Superintendent of Schools William McAndrew, suspended by Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago for alleged insubordination and fostering British ideas.

Justice Bausman charged in drastic language that English financiers had invaded the United States, had implanted insidious propaganda in American institutions and had brought about a decided warping in the minds of American youth for two major reasons—cancellation of the war debt and second, the desire to make the United States a Great Britain colony.

EARL CARROLL WILL BE GIVEN FREEDOM; TO MEET RELATIVES

Producer To Travel On Produce Truck From Prison

ATLANTA, Oct. 20.—Earl Carroll, New York showman, will be freed today.

After serving four months in Atlanta Penitentiary on a perjury charge, the producer will begin his first lap to the bright lights on Broadway in a loaded produce truck.

He will be transported from the honor farm, where he has been serving as librarian, to the warden's office in the penitentiary proper, a distance of ten miles. The produce truck is the prison's only official means of transportation at the farm.

After all formalities have been concluded in the warden's office, some time this morning, Carroll will return to the bosom of his relatives including his wife and brother, who came from New York.

They will find him a much better man, physically, than when they sorrowfully left him to begin his term four months ago. He has gained twenty-five to thirty pounds and he looks strong and well, according to Dr. Charles T. Neilans, the prison physician. Carroll has spent considerable time out of doors and his features are tanned by the sun.

The papers authorizing Carroll's release on parole were expected to arrive today and only Carroll's free man. He has already attended to the other details such as paying his $2,000 fine. Papers have not yet arrived, Warden Snook says.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS AGAINST SAME MAN

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20.—Two divorce suits were on file in Common Pleas Court here today against Albert L. Smith, 30, alleged bigamist.

Mrs. Martha Smith, 27, says she married Smith in 1919, and charges him with extreme cruelty. Mrs. Charlotte Smith, 25, says she married the defendant in 1924, and her petition charges him with bigamy.

The first Mrs. Smith has a daughter, six years old, according to her petition, while the second claims to have a nine months old daughter. Smith is said to have been blinded by carbon monoxide gas recently and at that time his two wives conferred and agreed that they would not file criminal charges of bigamy against him.

REMUS INVESTIGATION WILL INVOLVE GOVERNMENT HEADS

SON OF "EMPIRE BUILDER" SUED FOR SEPARATE MAINTENANCE BY WIFE

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 20.—Reports of a marital rift in the home of Walter L. Hill, son of James J. Hill, empire builder, were confirmed today when it became known that Mildred Richardson Hill, former Folliess beauty, had brought suit for separate maintenance against her millionaire husband on the grounds of cruelty.

Papers were served on Hill in Livingston last Monday, according to Under-Sheriff Hodgins. The defendant is represented by the firm of Walker and Walker of Butte, and E. Pat Kelly of Livingston.

Shortly after Hill's divorce from his first wife upon which he made a large property settlement, he married Mildred Richardson who immediately furnished his palatial ranch home at an estimated cost of $100,000.

After Hill's divorce and remarriage, about eight months ago, the present Mrs. Hill and her bridegroom travelled incognito, refusing to grant interviews and proving to be quite elusive.

After an extensive wedding trip they returned to the ranch and nothing was heard of them until the filing of papers last Monday.

LAW ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE WILL DEMAND DRY LAW ACTION

National Body Hopes To Place Issue Squarely Before Parties And Candidates—Accepts Challenge Of Borah

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A nationwide movement, sponsored by the National Committee for Law Enforcement, for a "showdown" on the question of enforcing the prohibition law in America, will be launched next month at a series of meetings that will be held from coast to coast.

Leading politicians of both parties, including presidential aspirants, are to be asked to aid in enforcing the eighteenth amendment by plainly stating their position with respect to it. Any effort to dodge the issue will be regarded as opposition, leaders in the movement asserted today.

The New York State Women's Committee for Law Enforcement, in co-operation with the national committee, will hold its meetings on Nov. 12 and 13th. There will be services in the churches, gatherings in private homes and meetings in public halls. Similar meetings will be held in other states on Nov. 13 so that the whole thing will work into one big national movement.

The National Committee for Law Enforcement, it was stated, has nine affiliated national organizations of women with a total membership of 10,000,000.

"The women of the country realize that there is an effort on the part of the political leaders of the country to dodge the prohibition enforcement issue," said Mrs. Samuel Bens, chairman of the New

SWIMMERS WILL PROVE RECORDS

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The recent channel swimming hoax admitted by Dr. Dorothy Logan has suppressed "bona fide" conquerors of the channel to attempt to shatter any possible doubts as to their ability.

A world-wide challenge was issued to men and women, singly or in flotillas, by Mrs. Ivy Gill, of Sheffield, who swam the channel recently.

Mrs. Gill declared she was ready to "race the world across the channel at its widest point."

Miss Mercedes Gleitz, who also swam the channel, followed Dr. Logan's expose by immediately starting for France to do it all over again.

AMMUNITION BLAST MENACES COLLEGE

PEKING, Oct. 20.—American teachers and Chinese students of the American Indemnity College, situated ten miles outside city, narrowly escaped injury early today when three carloads of ammunition exploded twenty yards from the college walls.

Two Chinese were wounded by the flying bullets and shrapnel and nearby property was destroyed. The college walls were chipped by pieces of hurtling steel.

The explosion was due to a hot-box in one of the cars, all of which contained aviation oil, rifle bullets, hand grenades, and aerial bombs for use by the armies of Chang-tso-lin. The cars were enroute to an aviation station near Tsing-hua.

CHILDREN'S HOME HEADS FACE CHARGE

GREENVILLE, O., Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Albright, superintendent and matron, respectively, of the Darke County Children's Home, were today facing an indictment charging cruelty to a child, and containing three counts against each individual.

The indictment followed the filing of affidavits making similar charges several weeks ago, in which it was alleged that inmates of the home had been cruelly disciplined by the couple.

Ten other open indictments and seven secret indictments were returned by the grand jury, which made its report late last night.

MEMBER OF CABINET WILL BE ENMESHED IN DEFENSE PROBES

Counsel For Slayer To Seek Attitude To- ward Dodge

EN ROUTE FROM ATLANTA, GA., TO WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—That official Washington will become enmeshed in the Remus trial is the promise of Attorney Charles Elston and first Assistant County Prosecutor Carl E. Basler who are touring twenty states seeking evidence that will be used for and against George Remus, former "King of the Bootleggers" when he is tried for the killing of his wife, Imogene Remus, in Cincinnati next month.

A member of President Coolidge's cabinet, and many others high in the official life of Washington are expected to testify.

The cabinet member is Attorney General John H. Sargent.

In addition, Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general in charge of criminal prosecution, Edgar T. Hoover, chief of the department of justice, Dr. E. L. Doran, in charge of the nation's liquor forces, former Prohibition Commissioner David H. Blair, and many other minor officials have been subpoenaed and are expected to give important testimony.

According to Attorney Elston, the purpose of taking depositions from Sargent and others in Washington is to have advantage of the information gathered by Tom Wilcox, agent in charge of the Detroit office of the department of justice during the government's investigation of the activities of Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., former ace of the department of justice, and Imogene Remus.

Attorney Elston hopes to secure the acquittal of Remus if permitted to use the information contained in the department of justice records as evidence.

Already it has been charged by George L. Remus from his murderer's cell in the Hamilton County jail that those responsible for the enforcement of law in Washington have been lax in meeting out justice to Franklin L. Dodge and Mrs. Imogene Remus.

Remus has charged that someone high in the office of the United States Attorney General is responsible for the apparent immunity of Dodge and Mrs. Remus.

Whether or not testimony will be developed to prove these charges will be brought out during the Washington inquiry, is a matter of speculation.

It is believed that Attorney Elston will conduct his inquiry and attempt to establish as evidence the charges made by Congressman F. L. LaGuardia who, during the last session of congress, charged that the prosecution of the former department of justice ace and Mrs. Remus had been neglected by the government.

The deposition party will arrive in Washington late from Atlanta, Ga., where important depositions were taken from Warden John W. Snook and United States District Attorney of northern Georgia, Clint Hager.

It was learned from Attorney Elston that several new witnesses were uncovered by Remus investigators in Atlanta, Ga. One of these witnesses, according to Attorney Elston, will prove conclusively the illicit relations of Mrs. Remus and her alleged lover, Dodge.

This witness, according to Elston, has consented to appear in open court and testify for the defense. For that reason no deposition was taken from this witness.

It was also learned that three other witnesses who were to have given depositions in Atlanta today have consented to appear personally at Cincinnati for the trial.

From reliable sources it was also learned that the state had uncovered a mystery woman witness at Birmingham, Alabama. This woman, whose name was not divulged by first Assistant County Prosecutor Carl E. Basler, communicated with Mr. Basler by long distance telephone from Birmingham, Alabama, and is believed to have obtained valuable information concerning Mr. Remus while he was confined at Atlanta Penitentiary.

This witness also has promised to testify for the state during Remus' fight to save his life from Ohio's electric chair.

According to the telegram received by Basler from County Prosecutor Charles E. Taft, II, Harry Brown, brother of these Remus, will join the state officials at Washington and assist in the development of the state's case.

TRAINMEN HURT IN WRECK AT WASHOUT

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 20.—Several trainmen injured in a washout crash of a Lackawanna passenger train last night near Hallstead, Pa., were brought here early today for treatment. Milton Esterbrook, the engineer, and Luke Monroe, the fireman, both of Elmira, N. Y., were killed when the locomotive plunged down a fifteen-foot embankment. No passengers were injured seriously although many were shaken up by the crash.

An official statement by railroad officials said that the tracks, undermined by heavy rains, sank beneath the engine and four express cars. The mail car left the tracks, but did not plunge down the embankment. The injured employees were in the express cars.

The train was No. 28, a local bound from Binghamton to New York. Hallstead is forty-three miles from Scranton.

INSECT RAVAGES ON OHIO NATIVE TREES BECOMES ALARMING

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 20.—Insect ravages of Ohio native forest trees are becoming more alarming each year as our native woodlands dwindle in size and from the lack of proper care and protection they are subject to such as graving, forest fires, competition from grasses and heavy cuttings, according to F. W. Dean, extension specialist in forestry for the agricultural college extension service at Ohio State University. This greatly decreases the vitality and vigor of the trees and makes them more susceptible to attacks by destructive beetle boring insects.

A large amount of Ohio's oak timber has been damaged by wood-boring beetles. This has greatly decreased the quality of oak lumber in the state, and it must go on the market as cull or low grade lumber, even though it may be clear, carefully sawn, and without other noticeable defects, Dean reports. Wormy oak is characterized by large grub worm holes or pecky streaks all through the logs. Every thousand feet of lumber that is characterized by evidence of worm or so-called grub holes is reduced in price several dollars per thousand board feet.

Travelling over the state one notices merchantable hickory growing in the native farm woods almost extinct due to a serious insect pest, Dean finds. The trees in many instances have been completely killed by the hickory bark beetle which enters the bark and then penetrates to the sap wood forming a complete system of tunnels and galleries.

This has the same effect as girdling the trees with an ax, and in a short time the hickory dies. Millions of feet of hickory have been destroyed in the state during the past twenty years by this insect.

The chestnut is another tree of important lumber value that has been damaged by wood boring insects. The bulk of Ohio's chestnut is classified now as wormy and pecky lumber, and this is entirely due to a boring insect, the specialist declares.

Unfavorable living conditions for bird life during the past twenty-five years has made this insect attack upon forest trees more noticeable during the past ten years. The only effective means by which bark boring beetles and other forest insects working in the woody tissues can be controlled are by means of such as those belonging to woodpeckers, sap suckers, chickadees and thrushes, Dean declares. They live constantly among the trees obtaining their food supply from the wood-boring insects. In any section or community a decrease in their number means a decided increase in infestation by forest tree insects.

Undoubtedly the automobile can be held responsible to a certain degree in claiming a heavy toll of bird life along our main thoroughfares in the country, he says. Every beneficial bird, particularly those that live primarily upon insects destructive to forest trees, that is killed, gives the insect a decided advantage in the great struggle that goes on in the forest between living trees and a horde of insect pests.

WORLD WAR MOTION PICTURE STIRS UP WAR DAY MEMORIES

The World War is already nearly ten years old, and to some perhaps forgotten, but the things that happened on the battle fields of France and Belgium can never pass from the minds of those who lived while they were taking place.

So the film, "Men of Purpose," which is a complete official picture of the great strife, comes among us like a leaf from an old notebook or the return of a deep, tragic memory to remind us lest we forget the lesson taught.

The picture, to be presented at the Bijou Theater next Thursday and Friday, October 27 and 28, under the auspices of Company L, 147th Inf., Xenia's National Guard unit, is one of the most remarkable of all visionary war documents, it is said. It reveals actual scenes in the various belligerent nations beginning with the Austrian assassination, running quickly through modes and manners of preparation for war, dealing heavily with actual battle scenes and finally closing with armistice scenes at the front.

Most of the photographs are remarkable for their clarity and preservation. During the war the photo lens really came into its own for the first time, and much of the actual war film is of this nature.

Men are actually killed by the thousands in these rolls of film, one of the government's most precious records of the war; air raids on London are shown, trenches in all their horrible reality are revealed, in fact, the film manages to grasp and give to its viewers all the gruesomeness and all the hopeless tragedy of war.

We Hope This Keeps Up!

Last week was our first experiment in what might be called Co-Operative Advertising. If you missed reading this effort it would really pay you to drop in the Gazette office and get a copy of last week's issue.

For certainly there has been a lot of friendly comment on it. EVERY ONE of us have been in the drug business for at least 25 years. Every one of us has at SOME time been hard pressed to "make that last payment" so that we could feel that we were IN BUSINESS! Our four stores are not the result of casual, haphazard effort but represent hard boiled sweat, unstinting "counter work" and many many hours of close "figgerin'" to gain a place in the sun!

And any success we may have attained, any monies we have spent in our flush moments have been spent happily and in most kindly spirits RIGHT HERE IN XENIA!

We always have felt without getting sobby about it that we were APPRECIATED. For it's a fact that we have appreciated all of YOU folks.

Just as YOUR job represents to YOU your livelihood, just so do our respective stores represent to us not only a hard working past but also a very important PRESENT and a DECIDEDLY important FUTURE.

As we stated last week "TIMES CHANGE!" We must "change" WITH them—or be pushed out of the picture! After thinking it all over we all sort of felt that the easiest, safest and STRAIGHTEST road to shore was to adopt MODERN METHODS and TALK FACTS to you folks in language and manner that ANY one could see just CAME FROM THE HEART!

We mention this last so you'll be LOOKING for next week's advertisement. We hope you read it carefully.

It will be interesting—we HOPE! It's a FABLE!

DANGERS TO COUNTRY DESCRIBED TO D. A. R.

The dangers to the United States government from within and without its boundaries and the efforts being made by patriotic societies such as the Daughters of the American Revolution to spoil such attempts, were forcefully described by Mrs. A. C. Messenger, state chairman of International Relations of the D. A. R. to Catherine Greene Chapter, at the home of Mrs. M. W. Monroe, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Messenger, before entering into her main topic, first announced the lectures of this subject sent out by the Louisville Courier-Journal from Station WHAS, were length 461.2, at 4:05 p. m., every first Monday in the month.

Mrs. W. H. McGivney read an article pertaining to the socialistic activities of certain bodies in this country and Mrs. William Magee Wilson described the work of Jane Addams and others in the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

A brief business meeting, in charge of the vice regent, Mrs. Frank A. Jackson, preceded the talks.

A delightful social hour was held afterward, when Mrs. Monroe assisted by Mrs. Mary Little Dice and Mrs. John Birch, served dainty refreshments.

Three out-of-town guests, Mrs. Fred Zartman, Franklin, O.; Mrs. R. C. Jewell, San Antonio, Texas, and Mrs. Benjamin McMahers, of Zanesville, O., attended the meeting.

CORRY-ADAMS NUPTIALS IN ZANESVILLE WEDNESDAY

Nuptials uniting Miss Cornelia Adams, daughter of the late Judge John Jay Adams and Mr. Homer Campbell Corry, Springfield, took place at 2 p. m., Wednesday, at the country home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Hamm Black, Dresden Road, Zanesville.

Dr. Samuel S. Palmer, Broad St., Presbyterian Church, Columbus, read the services in the presence of only a few close friends and relatives.

The bride carried a prayer book which had been used by her mother, upon the occasion of her marriage in Zanesville. Unattended, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Jay Adams, Chicago. Her full tulle veil was combined with princess lace, which had been on her mother's wedding gown and her orange blossoms were those which had been worn by her mother and her aunt, Mrs. Robert Black, who were brides.

Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Kenneth Quinby, pianist and Miss Margaret Van Voorhis, singer.

After a wedding trip, the couple will reside at 260 Dover Road, Springfield. Miss Anna May Stewart, this city, aunt of the bridegroom, attended the wedding.

DAUGHTER OF YELLOW SPRINGS MAYOR MARRIED.

Old rose velvet was chosen to fashion the wedding gown of Miss Anna Louise Donley, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Thomas Donley of Yellow Springs, for her marriage to Mr. William N. Bolton, Jr., Springfield, at St. Paul's Catholic Church, Yellow Springs, Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock.

A large audience of friends and relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony. The bride's gown was replete with accessories of black. Her attendant, Miss Lillian Donley, her sister, wore a gown of blue velvet, with black accessories. The best man was Mr. Ward Bolton, Springfield, brother of the bridegroom.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis Kelley. Immediately after the service, breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, with covers for thirty-five guests. Appointments of pink and white were employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolton left Thursday morning for a short wedding trip. They will reside at 912 Link St., Springfield. The bride has been employed in the offices of the Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield and Mr. Bolton is an employee of the press department of the same concern.

All the guests were dressed in ghost costumes which added to the Hallowe'een spirit of the occasion. Contests and games were enjoyed during the evening.

The bride's gown was of blue georgette, with gold trimming, with a coat, hat and other accessories of light tan. Miss Shidaker wore a blue georgette and broadened velvet. The single ring ceremony was solemnized.

Twenty-five guests will be entertained at the home of the bride's parents, Thursday evening, for dinner, honoring the newly married couple. Mr. and Mrs. Bales will go to housekeeping immediately at Third and Collier St., where their home is furnished.

After a conference with Mr. Coolidge at the White House this morning Fess emerged from the presidential office and said: "I've been called down."

Fess had reference to the speeches he has been making in various parts of the country in which he has assured audiences that Mr. Coolidge will be the candidate despite his not choosing to run.

"If the president has his own way," said the Ohio senator, "he will not be nominated."

"Does that mean he is opposed to being drafted?" the administration spokesman was asked.

"If you had heard what the president said you would have so interpreted it," was the reply.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS EARN SUSPENSIONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Indefinite suspension of "Bucky" O'Neill, halfback, and "Mossy" Mosko, tackle, and suspension for one week of Johnny Hannegan, halfback, for failure to observe training rules after the game with Syracuse last Saturday, was announced today by Coach Lou Little of Georgetown university.

He held discipline to be more important than winning football games. As the suspension in Hannegan's case began last Saturday, there is a possibility that he will be played against the Mountaineers.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 20.—One more veteran was lost to the Illinois varsity today for the game against Northwestern Saturday when the faculty department confirmed the report of Arthur D'Am-brosio's suspension for violation of the no-car rule for students. Coach Zupke had moved D'Am-brosio from an end position to full-back to strike a balance in the Illinois backfield.

Quality Leadership the Backbone of its Supremacy

Hudson design attains its great margins of supremacy in performance and reliability, only because it is accompanied by an equally pre-eminent leadership of quality in materials and workmanship. The great suppliers will tell you that its material standards are more exacting than many of the costliest cars. Its precision manufacture is carried to limits as fine as automobile practice has ever achieved. And its standards are guarded by inspection as careful, and watchful, as these rigid principles of quality themselves.

High Compression Performance that thrills the most Veteran Experts

By the Automobile Expert of "Automobile Topics"

"It has... all the 'punch' in the world... a smart pusher in the back every time the accelerator pedal is trod upon. Throughout its whole range, the response to throttle seems to be precisely the same. 'Soft spots' are simply not to be found.

"... it will walk away from the traffic signal faster than anything Hudson has ever built... It will step out of line and jump into the lead from any speed without the slightest hesitation.

"But further, all this is accomplished without a vestige of that tinkle-tinkle business under the hood that Englishmen know as 'pinking' and American engineers as the gas knock, or detonation. Apparently this present Hudson engine just isn't going to 'ping' when the throttle is quickly opened, or when the car is driven hard against a hill.

"Under precisely similar conditions most any other modern engine will detonate when running on ordinary fuel...

"The Hudson motor does what it does on any old fuel at all, it is said, and assuredly does it on the run of pump fuel that is sold at base prices every where."

Keep Kidneys Active!

You Can't Feel Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly.

To feel always tired, lame and aching is too often a sign of improper kidney action. When the kidneys act sluggishly, waste poisons remain in the blood, and are apt to make one languid, stiff and aching, with dull headaches, dizziness and often nagging backache. A common warning that the kidneys are not acting right is scanty or burning secretions. Assist the kidneys with Doan's Pills. Doan's is a stimulant diuretic, increase kidney activity. "Yes, Willard Mack is right, Luckies are best," says Paul Berlenbach

Popular pugilist tells his manager, Benedict Sterns, that Lucky Strikes are the finest cigarettes.

Willard Mack,

Noted Author, Producer and Actor, writes:

"We people of the theatre are, as a rule, extremists. This is the reflex action from overwrought nerves. When a man smokes forty cigarettes a day, as I do, he must be sure of his brand. I smoke Lucky Strikes because I have found they are soothing to the nerves and at the same time they cause no throat irritation. My voice is always in perfect condition and I am never troubled by any coughing which might be annoying to me in my work as an actor."

Willard Mack

You, too, will find that LUCKY STRIKES give the greatest pleasure—Mild and Mellow, the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. Made of the choicest tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"IT'S TOASTED"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

BOOST HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION WITH MOTOR DELEGATION

Smaller Greene County towns will be reminded Friday evening of the fact that Xenia is to have a big Halloween celebration according to the plans of the booster delegation for the Halloween event.

Members of the Xenia Community Band, who are sponsoring the celebration, and all others who care to join the delegation, will meet in front of the Court House Friday evening at five o'clock and will start on the boosting tour which will include Jamestown, Cedarville, Yellow Springs, Osborn and Fairfield.

All business men or others who will bring their car and get in line will be welcomed by the celebration promoters. Any one who would like to help in the boosting but is not able to furnish a car is asked to be at the Court House at the starting time and a place will be found for them in an auto. Everyone is asked to bring horns, noise makers of any kind, or Halloween decorations for the car, if the last is convenient.

The delegation plans to give each town a rousing announcement of Xenia's coming Halloween frolic.

Members of the band who have started the soliciting of prizes for the various events in the Halloween program report that they are meeting with great success.

BOMBAY CHILDREN MARRY UNDER FIVE

BOMBAY, India, Oct. 20.—Seventy-four thousand children under five years of age are married in the presidency of Bombay, according to statistics revealed here today.

Three thousand little girls of that number are widows. The children were engaged or actually married under the Indian custom of mating young children.

The statistics were gathered in support of three bills for Indian social reforms, which will soon be introduced in the Indian legislature. These measures will deal with child marriage and child engagements.

Although the English have introduced many reforms in India, they have never interfered with the customs of child marriages. The matter has been left to the Indians themselves to reform if they saw fit.

All Scouts in Troops No. 41, 43, and 45 are urged to turn out Thursday night to complete the work at the new Scout cabin northwest of Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

"As the cabin is now ready for use with the exception of a little cleaning up around the premises, it is urgent that we do this at once and get the job over," announces Deputy Scout Commissioner R. H. Kingsbury.

"Scouts will report at 6:30 and a couple of hours should see the job finished. Don't leave this to the other fellow but be there."

Next week will be celebrated as Scout Week and the Scout cabin will be formally opened and put into use. Scouts, their parents and all who are interested in Scouting are invited to inspect the new structure.

"We sincerely wish to thank again at this time, all those persons, who by their donations to The Old Scout Association, or by their labor, have made our local Scout headquarters possible," Kingsbury declares.

EDUCATION BOARD OF BATH TWP. FILES AMENDED BUDGET

Board of Education of Bath Twp., consolidated school district has filed an amended budget with the County Budget Commission, calling for $87,184 for expenses in 1928, a reduction of $14,000 from the aggregate requests in the budget

previously filed, according to County Auditor R. O. Wead.

The original budget as submitted called for $68,154 in the general fund inside the fifteen-mill limitation; $19,030 outside of all limitations in the bond interest and sinking fund and an additional levy of two mills for the school, authorized by the voters of Bath Twp.

The levy was originally for three mills but only one mill was levied for the fiscal year 1927 with the result the 1928 Bath budget requested that the remaining two mills be levied for school purposes. Based on a tax duplication of $7,000,000, this extra two mills, if levied for 1928, would be approximately $14,000, which, added to the other amounts, would have brought the total requests for next year to $101,184, instead of $87,184.

A published article by H. E. Zuber, Bath school superintendent, stating the 1928 budget has been misinterpreted, led Auditor Wead to inform the Bath school board of its mistake.

The school board rectified the error in a letter received Thursday, which declared the amount desired in the 1928 budget is only $87,184.

In order to reduce the present budget on file to this figure, Auditor Wead will reduce the local tax levy for the school district inside the fifteen-mill limitation, about two mills for 1928, a cut of substantially $14,000.

FUNERAL OF PISTOL VICTIM STILL PENDS

Coroner F. M. Chambliss was awaiting further developments Thursday before arriving at a decision as to whether to hold an inquest in connection with the fatal shooting of Ephraim Beachan, 40, colored, Birmingham, Ala., by Fred O. Lieurance, Pennsylvania Railroad detective, who resorted to a revolver when the negro showed fight in resisting arrest in the East End railway yards Monday night.

Undertakers Johnson and Watkins still have charge of the body and no funeral services have been arranged inasmuch as attempts to locate relatives of Beachan have been without success.

GLASSES NEARLY COST HIM LIFE IN PRISON

MAX GOTTLIEB WITH AND WITHOUT TROUBLESOME "SPECS."

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Max Gottlieb won't throw away his spectacles though they nearly cost him life imprisonment.

In a dingy Forsyth street restaurant, down on the lower East Side, Maxie waits on table and regales his customers with the tale of how he nearly served a life term in Sing Sing for a crime he did not commit—all on account of his "cheaters."

"But I won't throw 'em away," says Maxie, also known to police as Mr. Max Green. "Why should I? I need them to see."

Had Criminal Record
Five months ago, police came to Forsyth street and hauled Maxie away. He was identified as the man who sold pieces of glass for diamonds.

The judge took a good look at Gottlieb and so did the jury. He had been convicted for larceny three times and now, an apparent fourth offender, he was liable to life imprisonment as an habitual criminal.

In vain did Maxie protest his innocence. He said he hadn't "pulled a job" for ten years. He pointed to his family of a wife and two

Speedy Relief From Bunions—Soft Corns

No sensible person will continue to suffer from those intense, agonizing, throbbing bunion pains when the new powerful penetrating yet harmless antiseptic Emerald Oil can readily be obtained at any well stocked drug store.

Apply a few drops over the inflamed part and see how speedily the pain disappears and the inflammation is reduced.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that soft corns seem to shrivel right up and drop off.

Sayre's Drug Store guarantees one bottle to give results and is dispensing it to many foot sufferers.

Sciatic-Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoot down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allen's Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. Sayre's Drug Store keeps Allen's Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

Do you take cold easily?

Your mucous membranes are sensitive. Cold germs weaken them. And when you have chronic colds you slip into a catarrhal condition without knowing it.

Don't let colds "hang on." You can quickly relieve the inflammation of the delicate linings of throat and nose, throw off congestion and stored-up impurities with Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Its tonic effect aids Nature in restoring a healthy condition, drives away catarrh and helps you go through the winter without colds. Ask your druggist. Price 85c.

daughters. Would he risk another "job"? No sir! Not Maxie. But the jury thought otherwise. Detective Discoverer Error Detective Sergeant William Drum of the pickpocket squad wasn't satisfied Maxie was the man, although the victims of the diamond swindle positively identified him. Drum went out and arrested one Abraham Schwartz, a dead ringer for Max.

They were getting ready to ship Gottlieb up to the "big house" at Sing Sing when Schwartz confessed and Maxie was freed. Now he is back at Forsyth street where he thought he never would be again.

Perched on his nose are the spectacles which make Maxie look like Schwartz's twin brother. Schwartz is in jail. Maxie has quit worrying.

SIMON KENTON SALT KETTLE IS FOUND

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Oct. 20.—After a search of several months, W. J. Curtis, of Pike, representative from the Nicholas-Robertson district, has found an old iron kettle which was used by early pioneers in boiling salt at Blue Lick Springs. This is one of the kettles given to the pioneers by Virginia before Kentucky became a state. It formerly belonged to "Aunt" Hilda Whaley who died sixteen years ago at the age of 102.

Mrs. Whaley was a Kenton, a descendant of Simon Kenton, the pioneer Indian fighter. Her father obtained the kettle from Simon Kenton. Originally the kettle was of 60-gallon capacity, but the top of the vessel has been eaten away by the salt. So far as is known this is the only salt boiling kettle in existence in that section. Curtis found it at the home of a farmer near Blue Licks and has added it to his large collection of relics of pioneer days.

CIRCUS CONFUSES ROANOKE AND MARS

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 20.—Charges that two Negro boys were abducted and held in virtual slavery by Ringling Brothers Circus were contained in attachment suits for $100,000 on file here today. They were filed by T. W. Messick, Roanoke lawyer.

He charged that Willie and George Muse of Roanoke, were exhibited as freaks as "ambassadors from Mars" and were held against their will by the circus. Action was brought on behalf of their mother who recognized the boys when the circus was showing in Roanoke. The suit charged that she tried for several years to find the boys after their alleged abduction by the circus.

FORTY AIRPORTS IN OHIO U. S. COMMERCE DEPARTMENT FINDS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 20.—Forty airports and emergency landing fields are now in operation in Ohio according to records compiled by the U. S. Commerce Department. Plans for nineteen more are now under way.

The fields now in operation were established by the military branches of the federal government, by the commerce department and the airmail service and a few by cities and private interests.

Dayton heads the list with four airplane landing and construction fields; Zanesville and Columbus each have three; Akron, Cincinnati, Bryan and Cleveland come next

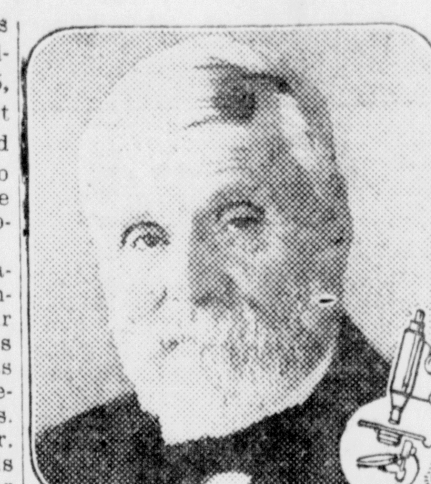

Old Folks Say Doctor Caldwell is Right

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the baby because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

with two in each city. The following cities each have one airport: Toledo, Camp Perry, Elyria, Cleveland, Parkman, Youngstown, Ada, Mansfield, Canton, Wooster, Middletown, London, and Troy.

The commerce department of the United States federal government has plans for building airports at Kent, Findlay, Galion, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Greenville, Hamilton and Portsmouth. If these landing fields are built they will be owned and operated by the cities in which they are located. The landing fields at the larger cities are well equipped with landing lights, danger marks, repair shops and comfortable quarters for the plane pilots.

TOLEDO SITE ONCE BOTTOM OF OCEAN

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 20.—Conclusive proof that the land upon which Toledo now stands once was the bottom of an ocean bay again has been brought to light through the work and studies of Charles D. Miller, Sylvania, O.

Scientists long have paid little attention to it until recently. Miller has devoted much of his time to collecting trilobites, to be found in quarries at Silica near his home. These small fossils are held to be inhabitant of the globe fifty million years ago. The fossils have been turned up by steam shovels excavating shale for the manufacture of cement. Specimens Miller has acquired now grace many of the museums of the world.

The small animals lived only in salt water, it is said, and for that reason, scientists advance the theory that this part of the Lake region was once under salt water of the ocean. A collection of the fossils has been brought to Toledo for display in a show window.

RESTRAINS TENANT
FROM TAKING CORN;
OTHER COURT NEWS

Under a temporary restraining order granted in Common Pleas Court in the injunction suit filed by David B. Watt and Thurman and Irma J. Early against Clarence S. Mangan, the defendant is enjoined from removing any corn from the farm on which he is a tenant and also from interfering with Watt on any of his visits to his farm.

In the suit, Watt sets forth that he owns a 147-acre farm in Xenia Twp., on which the defendant is a tenant. The tenant lease expires March 1, 1928, Watt states.

Plaintiff declares Mangan is a tenant under the usual terms that each has an equal interest in the hay and feed and in hogs raised on the farm.

In the summer of 1927 the wheat and oats were threshed, the straw stacked and the arrangements with the tenant are that the rough feed such as straw and fodder, should be fed to the premises with the tenant having no right to sell or dispose of the straw without the consent of Watt, plaintiffs charge.

Plaintiff charges the defendant now plans to sell the straw, or at least one-half of it, without his consent.

Watt alleges Mangan has notified him not to come to the farm any more under a threat of personal violence.

Plaintiff complains that he has property and interest on the farm which require his attention and charges that Mangan, unless restrained, will prevent him from looking after his property and interests.

Watt states that he contracted with Thurman and Irma J. Early for sale of the real estate, the sale

MAYBE HE WAS HUNGRY
Xenia was thrown into a mild uproar Thursday morning when the factory whistle at The R. A. Kelly Co. screeched forth at 10:30 o'clock instead of 11:30, the usual time it is blown to apprise employees of "quitting time."

Phone calls poured into the firm's office inquiring as to the reason for this unprecedented occurrence. Whispers of a fire were heard on many lips.

James E. Graham, engineer at the plant, had merely made a mistake in glancing at the factory clock and had read the time incorrectly. He was being "kidded" by fellow workers at the plant.

Infant Care

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless and reliable, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right baby's stomach and end almost any little ill throughout the system. Fretfulness and fever, too; it seems no time until everything is serene.

That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence seems just what is needed. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, and without shock to the system. Without the evil taste. Castoria is delicious! Your tongue will tell you why "Children Cry for It." Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's the least sign of colic, constipation, diarrhea. Or whenever there's need to aid sound, natural sleep.

Only one word of warning; the above is true of genuine Castoria. Fletcher's is the original. Other preparations may or may not be as pure, as free from a single doubtful drug. Physicians tell parents to get Fletcher's Castoria, and no child of this writer's is going to test any other kind. I'll save a dime some other way.

*SPECIAL NOTE: With every bottle of genuine Fletcher's Castoria wrapped a book on "Care and Feeding of Babies" worth its weight in gold to every mother or prospective mother.

POPULAR SONGS NOT MORE IMMORAL THAN OPERA SAYS DOCTOR

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The words and tune of "Red Hot Mommer," and similar jazz effusions may be "hot" but nowhere near so hot as the words and lovely music of "Tristan and Isolde," in the opinion of Dr. Alex S. Hershfield, state alienist.

"Some of the stories, lines and music of the so-called standard operas are more immoral, if you wish to know, than most of the popular songs of the day," said Dr. Hershfield.

His statement was inspired by the warning of Ambrose Wyrick, a noted singer, who cautioned young women not to wed the men who go shopping for loads of jazz records and impolite songs.

"Of course, 'Tristan and Isolde' is the most notably passionate of all the operas," added Dr. Hershfield. "The sullen, insidious warmth of the music rises to a very ecstasy of sensual rapture. Yet listening to such music, one does not feel it lowers the moral standards of the public."

Dr. Hershfield is so enthusiastic an opera fan that he has had operatic stars sing for his patients at the Dunning, Ill., asylum for the insane. This musical therapy has won widespread attention from alienists throughout the country.

"There is much less of things we call suggestive in popular songs and titles than there is in books and pictures," concludes Dr. Hershfield. "There is no danger that our democracy will go on the rocks or that marriage will be made less sacred because people sing and dance to jazz music."

FEAR SPREADING OF GERMANY'S STRIKE

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—Further spread of the miners' strike now in progress in Germany was feared today when the anthracite miners of the Ruhr valley demanded a wage increase and were met with refusal by the operators.

The government arbitration commission met today to attempt a reconciliation between the striking lignite miners and their employers. It was feared, however, that the anthracite miners would strike before this dispute could be settled.

ASKS PARDON AFTER SERVING 44 YEARS

WAUPUN, Wis., Oct. 20.—After spending forty-four years in the state penitentiary here, George Retcek is seeking a pardon.

Retcek was convicted on June 16, 1883, in Manitowoc County circuit court of the murder of his wife with an ax.

He was captured later in Milwaukee where he was working on the flour docks. Following his imprisonment in the county jail at Manitowoc he escaped, and was captured in a hollow pine tree near Manitowoc.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back, sick headache, dizziness, your stomach, sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, and channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

SUNSHINE GIRLS ON OPENING NUMBER OF CENTRAL LYCEUM

The Sunshine Girls trio presented a program of high artistic achievement as the opening number of the 1927-28 Lyceum course in Jean B. Elwell Auditorium at Central High School Wednesday night.

The group was under the personal direction of Miss Marlon Watson, who possesses a clear, soprano voice of great range and flexibility and a gracious personality. Miss Marjory Josephine Jaques, reader and impersonator of the group, has a sparkling personality. Miss Alice Seamans, third member of the trio, proved to be a brilliant artist.

The program of the Sunshine

Girls reflected their fine appreciation of the best in literature and music, and contained all the elements of high grade entertainment, along with a great deal of splendid humor.

Group and individual numbers gave constant activity and change, which kept the audience always eager for what was coming next.

The second number on the course will feature the appearance of Charles William Paddock, world famous athletic, lecture and writer, November 15.

THINKING MACHINE LATEST INVENTION MADE BY SCIENTISTS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 20.—A "thinking machine" an electrical device which thinks for itself, has been developed in the department of electrical engineering of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. "Into this mechanical mind can be fed the conditions of a mathematical problem too complex for the human brain to master, and it will promptly grind out the answer and write it down as efficiently as a machine takes on lumber and chemicals and produces finished boxes of matches, read an astounding announcement from technology today.

The "thinking machine" was invented by Dr. Vannevar Bush, professor of electrical power transmission, and a staff of research workers. It is called "The Product Integrator," work was begun on it several years ago to meet the need for a machine which would automatically solve problems of advanced electrical theory rapidly and accurately.

"The Product Integrator might be called an adding machine carried to an extreme," said Professor Bush. "Where workers in the business world are ordinarily satisfied with addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of numbers, the engineer deals with curves and graphs which represent for him the past and present and future of the things in which he deals."

The Integrator, a device of electrical measurements, gears and recording tables, is virtually a man-made brain which transcends human reasoning and readily plots the answer to problems that cannot now be solved by formal mathematics. It requires from eight minutes to a few hours to make computations which would take an engineer from a month to a year to work out by ordinary methods.

"The foundation of the Integrator is a watt-hour meter, of the same type as is in everyone's home for recording the amount of power which is used from time to time, and records the sum on its dials.

ENGAGE MARION MAN
TO ADDRESS EAGLES
INITIATION HERE

John Abel, Marion, O., state president of Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be the main speaker at initiatory exercises for what is known as the Twentieth Anniversary class of candidates of Xenia Aerie, No. 1689 Friday night at the Aerie hall.

Mr. Abel is being brought to Xenia under auspices of the Grand Aerie organization department.

The anniversary class is expected to shatter all previous records with regard to the number initiated.

Satisfactory progress is being made in the fall membership drive, which was formally opened recently by the address of Ladru M. Layton, Springfield, under auspices of the state organization department, according to the committee in charge.

Worthy President George Killen, commenting on the present campaign for new members, said: "It is pleasing to note the large number of young men who are joining the Eagles. Last year, despite industrial depression in the large cities, the order initiated more than 90,000 candidates, bringing the total membership in the United States well over the 700,000 mark. This year further large gains are being made."

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sheffield, of Springfield, were the week end guests of Mr. George Glass and family.

Mrs. J. J. Sullivan and daughter, Ellen and Mrs. William Klontz enjoyed a birthday dinner Thursday at the home of Mr. Dave Daugherty and wife, of South Charleston, it being Mr. Daugherty's sixtieth birthday.

Mrs. William Sheely and son used it long ago. It is all blackened with smoke.

"Then we can build a fire in it, as I suggested."

"I hope we can't! Just to show you! Stuart said they might have to blow away more of it and I hope they did."

"Did you say 'Stuart'? What Stuart?" asked John Moore.

"Stuart Long. This is his father's ranch. He showed me this cave years ago."

"Stuart Long?" exclaimed John triumphantly. "That's where I heard of Arty Long's ranch! The Ambassador gave me a Mexican name—Ricardo."

"Ricardo, the foreman! How do you happen to know Stuart Long?"

John caught the note of deep surprise in her voice, and laughed exultantly.

"It didn't happen!" he leaned over and gripped the back of her saddle so that his arm was half around her. "You won't believe it yet, but you will, you will! It didn't just happen. I told you. It was all meant to be! That party at the Santa Rita was Beechey's party. Do you know him?"

"Yes."

"And Stuart Long was there! That party ended in my going off in Rodriguez's car. And now we are swinging back to Stuart Long again. Don't you see how it all fits together?"

But Ruth Henshaw shrank away from his arm. "No, no!" she cried brokenly. "Those awful things at the ranch were meant to happen! And if they were—well, what you say is true—then it's all like some horrible web and I am caught there, in the center, with my uncle and Wong—"

She covered her face with her hands as if to blot out some fearful sight.

And then John Moore's arm went around her and held her close.

"Listen," he said, "listen to me! There is only one thing in the world that counts. You and I are riding here together! Just that! After all the years, in the dark and the rain, you and I riding here together!"

The lightning glow revealed the girl's face upturned to his, the fearless poise of her head, the brooding dark of her eyes; the black rail falling round her, the blacker wall of the mountain rising behind her and dropping away to sheer depths below.

For that instant it seemed to John that they swung again between earth and sky as they had done in the belated tower.

His exultant mood vanished. His

Valentine L. Stocklein, 67, native of Xenia and father of E. V. Stocklein, director of public welfare in Dayton, died at his home, 220 K St., Dayton, at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday night. Death was due to chronic heart disease, from which he had suffered for a year.

Mr. Stocklein was born in Xenia September 12, 1860 and moved to Dayton with his parents when ten years of age. Since that time he had resided in that city.

Retiring from active life three years ago, he had enjoyed good health until a year ago and had been confined to bed for the last six weeks by illness.

He was in charge of the plumbing and fitting department at the National Cash Register Co. for more than twenty years and later occupied a similar position for ten years at the General Motors Co. plant at Moraine City.

Surviving is his widow, Anna B.; two sons, Edward V., who is welfare director; and Clarence J., Dayton attorney; and one daughter, Mrs. Winifred M. Walsh.

Funeral services will be held at the residence at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at Holy Angels Church in Dayton at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

The Theater

"Movie stars are at the state where vaudeville actors were when I was one, fifteen or twenty years ago," says Will Rogers, cowboy, humorist, lecturer, actor, screen star and comedian, in Photoplay Magazine. "In those days everyone of us was making payments on a big diamond ring, generally yellow. Yes, and a horseshoe pin. If we went to see an agent the first thing he saw coming through the door was the ring. It wasn't vanity, I really thought it was furthering me in the estimation of people who saw it."

"Well, the movie stars are at photograph and handsome theater stage now with automobiles. They think their success will be judged by the price of the car they drive. It took us actors about five years to find that there wasn't anybody wearing those rings except us and the gamblers. The movie actors will wake up some day."

Beauty and roses are like ham and eggs, or corned beef and cabbage, usually served together. In this case, the beauty is Billie Dove. And who, if you ask us, has a better right to play the lead in the new photoplay "American Beauty?"

day to find that there's nobody making that kind of display but them and the bootleggers."

Rogers' summing up of the motion picture situation would imply that he thinks that the movies are still in the hey-day of the overwhelming success that has greeted them and will eventually settle down to normalcy.

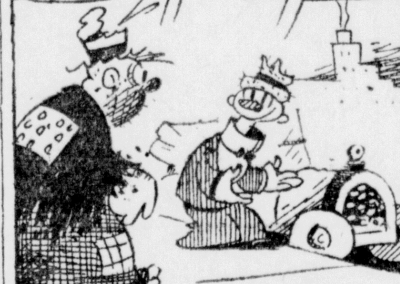

This is no doubt true. The movies were first swept to success by the novelty of pictures that would move on the screen and neither story nor photography was necessary. Then people began to become accustomed to the movies and demanded more entertainment. Better stories, improvements in

Photoplay critics have further furnished inspiration for this column today by voting on the six best pictures of the past month. Here are the movies they picked: "Love"; "The Student Prince"; "The Wind"; "Mile-a-Minute Love"; "Two Arabian Knights"; and "Rose of the Golden West."

The same critics handed out the brass medals for the best performances of the month as follows: Lillian Gish in "The Wind"; Greta Garbo and Jack Gilbert in "Love"; Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland in "Rose of the Golden West"; William Boyd and Louise Wolheim in "Two Arabian Knights"; Janet La Verne in "Mile-a-Minute Love"; Aileen Pringle in "Tea for Three"; and Ivan Petrovitch in "The Garden of Allah."

Diet and Health

Answers to Correspondents
URIPHOBA

"At times I have an extra amount of urine which looks exactly like water without any sediment in it, at other times it becomes white. These conditions almost make me wild with nervousness, and I am conscious of the bladder all the time."

"MRS. J."

I can't understand why you become so intensely worried about yourself, Mrs. J., and still do not go to a physician for a physical checkup!

The state of the urine so often causes worry that I think I had better tell you about some normal variations.

Amount—The normal urine should average one and a half quarts in twenty-four hours. There may be more if more than the normal amount of liquids is taken, and there may be more if the diet contains very little salty and concentrated foods. During the summer, where there is excessive perspiration, the quantity may be lower than this, and in the winter, the reverse.

There may be an extra secretion during nervous states.

A marked increase in the urine is known as polyuria. It is one of the symptoms of diabetes.

General Appearance—On a concentrated, heavy diet, the urine is apt to be more concentrated and more highly colored, for it contains an excessive amount of wastes from the foods. This may be so strong an acid as to be very irritating. The urine is normally pale yellow, but the intensity of the color depends upon the amount of water taken, and the diet.

The normal urine should be clear when voided. After standing a while some alterations occur, especially in concentrated urine. There is a cloudy deposit near the bottom composed of the normal mucus and cellular elements from the mucus membrane of the urinary tract. This deposit is normally more marked in women. If the urine becomes chilled after standing, there may be deposited also some orange, pink or white salts which are normal constituents. Among these salts may be some uric acid crystals, especially in concentrated urine. A small amount of these may be normal.

Urine may become cloudy upon standing, especially in warm weather, from the rapid multiplication of bacteria which gets into it both from the passage from the bladder and after it.

Now you see, Mrs. J., from this description, you may have been needlessly worried. However, go to a physician and have an examination so as to be sure you are not diabetic.

(For the diabetics, we have a list of books written for the layman by authorities on the subject. Send a fully self-addressed stamped envelope with request.)

Powder Puffs and Infections

There is an interesting article in the August, 1927, issue of Hygeia, on the possibility of infections from powder puffs, written by Anna Dulaney, a bacteriologist.

Miss Dulaney had noticed how many young girls used dirty-looking powder puffs on their faces, and upon finding a vanity case, she decided to take the powder puff, which apparently had been used a good deal, and make a count of the bacteria on it. With the usual laboratory technique, she cultured parts of the puff so that the germs could grow. A single germ (which is microscopic) will multiply within less than a day, and there will be millions of them in a little colony; so each colony would represent the growth of one germ. These germs were counted and the total number of germs clinging to that part of the puff was obtained. It was 20,000!

Various type of bacteria were found. Many of them were harmless, but some were of the type that would have played a part in infection.

Powder puffs are very cheap and they can also be washed. Let's keep a clean supply.

GOVERNMENT TO ATTACK CHIEF DEFENSE CLAIM

CHARGE THAT LEASE WAS GIVEN TO SAVE SUPPLY IS TARGET

Geological Expert Will Testify To Refute Claim

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Claims of the defense in the oil conspiracy trial that the lease on Teapot Dome naval reserve given Harry F. Sinclair by former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall was prompted by knowledge and fear that the reserve would be drained by borderline wells if it was not operated were due for an onslaught from government counsel today.

Owen Roberts, federal counsel, planned to place Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey, and other technicians on the stand to testify there was no danger of drainage at the time the allegedly fraudulent lease was consummated, and that such knowledge was available to Fall.

Before Smith is reached, however, the government and defense must finish with Judge E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of interior, who was still undergoing direct examination when court adjourned yesterday. Finney's testimony has been damaging to the defense in that it would tend to show Fall, and Fall alone, as the master mind in the making of the Teapot Dome lease—a fact which is denied by the former secretary. Defense lawyers undoubtedly will subject him to a long cross-examination.

Those following the trial are watching expectantly the bad feeling which is growing between Roberts and George Hoover, chief of Sinclair's counsel. All yesterday afternoon they wrangled and engaged in personalities, and adjournment found them both quite irritated. Roberts is restful of Hoover's insistent objections and arguments, interposed at times when he is trying to drive an important fact home to the jury.

DANCER KILLED IN FALL FROM WINDOW

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Earl Johnson, of Kansas City, was reported en route to New York today to arrange plans for the funeral of his eighteen-year-old daughter, Jane, a dancer, who was killed yesterday when she fell from the window of an apartment she occupied with her mother on the twelfth floor of the Hotel Claridge.

Miss Johnson's body, attired in green silk pajamas and slippers, landed on a shed in the rear of the hotel.

Her mother, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, said her daughter had fainted while taking her setting-up exercises near a window and fell into the courtyard. Mrs. Johnson was in the bathroom at the time.

The body was removed to Campbell's funeral parlors.

Miss Johnson came here three years ago. She had appeared in musical comedies and of late had been employed as a ballet dancer by a motion picture theater at $300 a week.

FLOGGING VICTIM WHIPPED BY WIFE?

KENT, O., Oct. 20.—A statement to the effect that Alfred Harris, Kent furniture dealer, who claims he was kidnapped and flogged by a band of masked men, August 21, was in reality beaten by his wife, in his own home, had been made public here today.

Mayor W. I. Harves, who issued the statement, said it had been obtained from John Foray, who formerly lived at the Harris home and who claims that Harris confessed to him.

Harris, when told of the story declared there was no truth in it. He contends that he was beaten by eight men who tried to take from him a petition which he was circulating at that time requesting Governor Donahoe to investigate the Kent Police Department.

JUDGE CUTS AMOUNT OF "KISS" VERDICT

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Lillie Mack, 23, who won a $3,675 judgment against a policeman who interrupted Mrs. Mack and her husband while they were engaged in a "kissing party" in a parked automobile, learned today that her award had been reduced.

Common Pleas Judge Abel C. Risinger, of Eaton, O., who tried the case, announced late yesterday that he would reduce the amount awarded Mrs. Mack to $2,200. Police Sergeant Frank J. Rolfe, against whom the judgment was rendered, has asked for a new trial.

RUSSIAN SOUGHT IN MURDER OF WIFE OF AMERICAN IN PARIS

Boston Professor Blames
Love Cult Associations.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—A Russian friend was being sought by French police today in connection with the murder at Nice of Mrs. Horace Lord, of Fall River, Mass. Jealousy was believed by police to have been the motive.

Mrs. Lord, who was formerly Marcelle Vernet, daughter of Count Gustave Vernet, was found stabbed through the heart.

She had been separated from her husband for several years and had achieved some fame as a violinist.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Horace Lord, Boston school principal, declared today that the murder of his wife in Nice, France, resulted from her associations with a love cult colony in Paris and her admiration for the late Isadora Duncan.

Cable dispatches yesterday told of Mrs. Lord being found stabbed through the heart.

Lord, son of a prominent Fall River family and principal of the Industrial School for Crippled and Deformed Children, went when informed of the tragic death of his wife and when he told of his belief of the circumstances which might have brought about her end.

Advices from France told of a Russian who is under suspicion for the crime. Lord declared his wife had written him recently of such a man—an accomplished violinist, she said—and that she had met him through the famous dancer, Isadora Duncan.

He denied that he and his wife had separated and produced weekly love-letters which he said he had received in the last few months.

Lord said he had met "Mimi", as he called his wife, during the war and had married her in France. Sighing, he added:

"Life is queer. Only a moment before I was notified of her death I took her wedding ring gift from my finger and laid it in a box. I felt an inward conviction that something had happened to my wife. I just knew it."

"Queer, isn't it? But I'm not surprised. Life is that way."

"And so Mimi, my bride, my wife, is slain. I knew something terrible was coming—and here it is."

The husband said Mrs. Lord had preferred life in France but had planned an early visit to Boston. He said he had visited France last summer to induce her to return with him but she had refused.

"I used every argument I could appeal to her," Lord said, "but it was all futile. She was even then in the hands of the fate that brought catastrophe so frequently into Miss Duncan's life. We knew Miss Duncan well and it was at the dancer's wish that my wife played the black death fugue at Miss Duncan's funeral."

Justice Bausman charged in English language that English financiers had invaded the United States, had implanted insidious propaganda in American institutions and had brought about a decided warping in the minds of American youth for two major reasons—cancellation of the war debt and second, the desire to make the United States a Great British colony.

Bausman praised the stand taken by Mayor Thompson who has frankly charged McAndrew with being "King George's stool pigeon" and with having poisoned the textbooks of Chicago schools in favor of England.

Other than his commendation of Thompson, Bausman did not once allude to the alleged conditions in Chicago schools but confined his address to a tirade against England and English ideas present in the United States today.

"England beguiled us into war," Bausman declared, "took all the spoils of it and then didn't want to pay her debts."

"Synchons in America, social climbers with marriageable daughters, have sickly aided Great Britain's cause."

"Not only our schools are surcharged with this deadly English influence but libraries and literature have been used as weapons against the American public. This is not a nebulous thing, a natural thing that has grown between nations of a mother tongue, but is the deliberate work of human minds, aided by financiers of England who seek the full cancellation of England's war debt to the United States and the placing of the Union Jack wherever now flies the Stars and Stripes."

Mrs. A. L. Harsley and Mrs. M. Obenaus, of Cleveland, were chosen directors of the Lutheran Orphanage at Springfield. Mrs. T. Birch, of Springfield, was named director of the Feghty Home at Tippecanoe City.

The Synod went on record at its session yesterday as urging the support and development of churches in rural communities.

UNITED STATES HAS WAR OF PROPAGANDA WITH BRITISH, SAID

Ex-Jurist Attacks Alleged Effort To Save War Debt

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—England is now engaged in a war with the United States employing nationwide pro-British propaganda rather than bombs and bullets, declared former Supreme Court Justice Frederick Bausman of the state of Washington, who testified in the trial here of Superintendent of Schools William McAndrew, suspended by Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago for alleged insubordination and fostering British ideas.

Justice Bausman charged in English language that English financiers had invaded the United States, had implanted insidious propaganda in American institutions and had brought about a decided warping in the minds of American youth for two major reasons—cancellation of the war debt and second, the desire to make the United States a Great British colony.

REMUS INVESTIGATION WILL INVOLVE GOVERNMENT HEADS

SON OF "EMPIRE BUILDER" SUED FOR SEPARATE MAINTENANCE BY WIFE

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 20.—Reports of a marital rift in the home of Walter L. Hill, son of James J. Hill, empire builder, were confirmed today when it became known that Mildred Richardson Hill, former Follies beauty, had brought suit for separate maintenance against her millionaire husband on the grounds of cruelty.

Papers were served on Hill in Livingston last Monday, according to Under-Sheriff Hodgins. The defendant is represented by the firm of Walker and Walker of Butte, and E. Pat Kelly of Livingston.

Shortly after Hill's divorce from his first wife upon which he made a large property settlement, he married Mildred Richardson who immediately furnished his palatial ranch home at an estimated cost of $100,000.

After Hill's divorce and remarriage, about eight months ago, the present Mrs. Hill and her bridegroom travelled incognito, refusing to grant interviews and proving to be quite elusive.

After an extensive wedding trip they returned to the ranch and nothing was heard of them until the filing of papers last Monday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A nationwide movement, sponsored by the National Committee for Law Enforcement, for a "showdown" on the question of enforcing the prohibition law in America, will be launched next month at a series of meetings that will be held from coast to coast.

Leading politicians of both parties, including presidential aspirants, are to be asked to aid in enforcing the eighteenth amendment by plainly stating their position with respect to it. Any effort to dodge the issue will be regarded as opposition, leaders in the movement asserted today.

The New York State Women's Committee for Law Enforcement, in co-operation with the national committee, will hold its meetings on Nov. 12 and 13. There will be services in the churches, gatherings in private homes and meetings in public halls. Similar meetings will be held in other states on Nov. 13 so that the whole thing will work into one big national movement.

The National Committee for Law Enforcement, it was stated, has nine affiliated national organizations of women with a total membership of 10,000,000.

"The women of the country realize that there is an effort on the part of the political leaders of the country to dodge the prohibition enforcement issue," said Mrs. Samuel Bens, chairman of the New York Women's Committee for Law Enforcement.

All during this time McCall was a Klan member. In tendering his resignation, he declared that the Klan in Alabama was in the hands of lawless leadership and was not living up to the principles of the organization.

"I have become convinced that it is not the purpose or intent of its leaders to aid the duly constituted officers of the law in their efforts to enforce the criminal laws where crimes are committed by its members," he added. "Many of these leaders, in my judgment, are responsible for the wave of lashing and floggings which have taken place in this state and many members of the Klan are placed in fear of drastic action by its present state rulers if they tell the truth in courts."

"For my part I regard my oath as an officer of the law superior to any private or fraternal obligation I can take and I do not feel that I should follow longer behind the banner and under the leadership of those leaders in their religious, political and criminal connivings, who are placing themselves at war with constituted authorities."

PEKING, Oct. 20.—American teachers and Chinese students of the American Indemnity College, situated ten miles outside this city, narrowly escaped injury early today when three carloads of ammunition exploded twenty yards from the college walls.

Two Chinese were wounded by the flying bullets and shrapnel and nearby property was destroyed. The college walls were chipped by pieces of hurtling steel.

The explosion was due to a hot box in one of the cars, all of which contained aviation oil, rifle bullets, hand grenades, and aerial bombs for use by the armies of Chang-tsin. The cars were enroute to an aviation station near Tsing-hua.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20.—Two divorce suits were on file in Common Pleas Court here today against Albert L. Smith, 30, alleged bigamist.

Mrs. Martha Smith, 27, says she married Smith in 1919, and charges him with extreme cruelty. Mrs. Charlotte Smith, 25, says she married the defendant in 1924, and her petition charges him with bigamy.

The first Mrs. Smith has a daughter, six years old, according to her petition, while the second claims to have a nine months old daughter. Smith is said to have been blinded by carbon monoxide gas recently and at that time his two wives conferred and agreed that they would not file criminal charges of bigamy against him.

MEMBER OF CABINET WILL BE ENMESHED IN DEFENSE PROBES

Counsel For Slayer To Seek Attitude Toward Dodge

EN ROUTE FROM ATLANTA, GA., TO WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—That official Washington will become enmeshed in the Remus trial is the promise of Attorney Charles Elston and first Assistant County Prosecutor Carl E. Basler who are touring twenty states seeking evidence that will be used for and against George Remus, former "King of the Bootleggers" when he is tried for the killing of his wife, Imogene Remus, in Cincinnati next month.

A member of President Coolidge's cabinet, and many others high in the official life of Washington are expected to testify.

The cabinet member is Attorney General John H. Sargent.

In addition, Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general in charge of criminal prosecution, Edgar T. Hoover, chief of the department of justice, Dr. E. L. Dornan, in charge of the nation's liquor forces, former Prohibition Commissioner David H. Blair, and many other minor officials have been subpoenaed and are expected to give important testimony.

According to Attorney Elston, the purpose of taking depositions from Sargent and others in Washington is to have advantage of the information gathered by Tom Wilcox, agent in charge of the Detroit office of the department of justice during the government's investigation of the activities of Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., former ace of the department of justice, and Imogene Remus.

Attorney Elston hopes to secure the acquittal of Remus if permitted to use the information contained in the department of justice records as evidence.

Already it has been charged by George L. Remus from his murder cell in the Hamilton County jail that those responsible for the enforcement of law in Washington have been lax in meeting out justice to Franklin L. Dodge and Mrs. Imogene Remus.

Remus has charged that someone high in the office of the United States Attorney General is responsible for the apparent immunity of Dodge and Mrs. Remus.

Whether or not testimony will be developed to prove these charges will be brought out during the Washington inquiry, is a matter of speculation.

It is believed that Attorney Elston will conduct his inquiry and attempt to establish as evidence the charges made by Congressman F. L. LaGuardia who, during the last session of congress, charged that the prosecution of the former department of justice ace and Mrs. Remus had been neglected by the government.

The deposition party will arrive in Washington late from Atlanta, Ga., where important depositions were taken from Warden John W. Snook and United States District Attorney of northern Georgia, Clint Hager.

It was learned from Attorney Elston that several new witnesses were uncovered by Remus investigators in Atlanta, Ga. One of these witnesses, according to Attorney Elston, will prove conclusively the illicit relations of Mrs. Remus and her alleged lover, Dodge.

This witness, according to Elston, has consented to appear in open court and testify for the defense. For that reason no deposition was taken from this witness.

It was also learned that three other witnesses who were to have given depositions in Atlanta today have consented to appear personally at Cincinnati for the trial.

From reliable sources it was also learned that the state had uncovered a mystery woman witness at Birmingham, Alabama. This woman, whose name was not divulged by first Assistant County Prosecutor Carl E. Basler, communicated with Mr. Basler by long distance telephone from Birmingham, Alabama, and is believed to have a valuable information concerning Mr. Remus while he was confined at Atlanta Penitentiary. This witness also has promised to testify for the state during Remus' fight to save his life from Ohio's electric chair.

According to the telegram received by Basler from County Prosecutor Charles E. Taft, II, Harry Brown, brother of Mrs. Imogene Remus, will join the state officials at Washington and assist in the development of the state's case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Prize fight Jimmy Barry was exhibited legally in New York or any other state. Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard ruled today.

LAW ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE WILL DEMAND DRY LAW ACTION

National Body Hopes To Place Issue Squarely Before Parties And Candidates—Accepts Challenge Of Borah

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A nationwide movement, sponsored by the National Committee for Law Enforcement, for a "showdown" on the question of enforcing the prohibition law in America, will be launched next month at a series of meetings that will be held from coast to coast.

FILMS WIN FIGHT

INSECT RAVAGES ON OHIO NATIVE TREES BECOMES ALARMING

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 20.—Insect ravages of Ohio native forest trees are becoming more alarming each year as our native woodlands dwindle in size and from the lack of proper care and protection they are subject to such as graving, forest fires, competition from grasses and heavy cuttings, according to F. W. Dean, extension specialist in forestry for the agricultural college extension service at Ohio State University. This greatly decreases the vitality and vigor of the trees and makes them more susceptible to attacks by destructive beetle boring insects.

A large amount of Ohio's oak timber has been damaged by wood and bark boring beetles. This has greatly decreased the quality of oak lumber in the state, and it must go to the market as cull or low grade lumber, even though it may be clear, carefully sawn, and without other noticeable defects, Dean reports. Wormy oak is characterized by large grub worm holes or pecky streaks all through the logs. Every thousand feet of lumber that is characterized by evidence of worm or so-called grub holes is reduced in price several dollars per thousand board feet.

Traveling over the state one notices merchantable hickory growing in the native farm woods almost extinct due to a serious insect pest, Dean finds. The trees in many instances have been completely killed by the hickory bark beetle which enters the bark and then penetrates to the sap wood forming a complete system of tunnels and galleries.

This has the same effect as girdling the trees with an ax, and in a short time the hickory dies. Millions of feet of hickory have been destroyed in the state during the past twenty years by this insect. The chestnut is another tree of important lumber value that has been damaged by wood boring insects. The bulk of Ohio's chestnut is classified now as wormy and pecky lumber, and this is entirely due to a boring insect, the specialist declares.

Unfavorable living conditions for bird life during the past twenty-five years has made this insect attack upon forest trees more noticeable during the past ten years. The only effective means by which bark boring beetles and other forest insects working in the woody tissues can be controlled are by birds which have strong puncturing bills or beaks such as those belonging to woodpeckers, sap suckers, chickadees and thrushes, Dean declares. They live constantly among the trees obtaining their food supply from the wood-boring insects. In any section of community a decrease in their number means a decided increase in infestation by forest tree insects.

Undoubtedly the automobile can be held responsible to a certain degree in claiming a heavy toll of bird life along our main thoroughfares in the country, he says. Every beneficial bird, particularly those that live primarily upon insects destructive to forest trees, that is killed, gives the insect a decided advantage in the great struggle that goes on in the forest between living trees and a horde of insect pests.

WORLD WAR MOTION PICTURE STIRS UP WAR DAY MEMORIES

The World War is already nearly ten years old, and to some perhaps forgotten, but the things that happened on the battle fields of France and Belgium can never pass from the minds of those who lived while they were taking place. So the film, "Men of Purpose," which is a complete official picture of the great struggle, comes among us like a leaf from an old notebook or the return of a deep, tragic memory to remind us lest we forget the lesson taught.

The picture, to be presented at the Bijou Theater next Thursday and Friday, October 27 and 28, under the auspices of Company L, 147th Inf., Xenia's National Guard unit, is one of the most remarkable of all visionary war documents, it is said. It reveals actual scenes in the various belligerent nations beginning with the Austrian assassination, running quickly through modes and manners of preparation for war, dealing heavily with actual battle scenes and finally closing with armistice scenes at the front.

Most of the photographs are remarkable for their clarity and preservation. During the war the telephone lens really came into its own for the first time, and much of the actual war film is of this nature. Men are actually killed by the thousands in these rolls of film, one of the government's most precious records of the war; air raids on London are shown, trenches in all their horrible reality are revealed, in fact, the film manages to grasp and give to its viewers all the gruesomeness and all the hopeless tragedy of war.

IS THERE NO RELIEF FROM SKIN TORTURE?

Must I Continue to Suffer the Unbearable Itching?

Are you one of those unfortunate who are going through life suffering with a skin disease, making you uncomfortable, making you less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in many forms of skin disease. Thousands of letters of gratitude prove its worth. "I feel so happy for what S.S.S. has done for me that I want others to know about it. I suffered twenty long years from eczema. At times the itching was unbearable. During that time, I used all kinds of salves without receiving any real benefit. After taking six bottles of S.S.S., I was cured of this dreadful disease. I recommend S.S.S. to anyone suffering from eczema, because I cannot praise it enough for what it has done for me." Cleophas Forte, Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger is more economical.

Affiliated Druggists OF Xenia

We Hope This Keeps Up!

Last week was our first experiment in what might be called Co-Operative Advertising. If you missed reading this effort it would really pay you to drop in the Gazette office and get a copy of last week's issue.

For certainly there has been a lot of friendly comment on it. EVERY ONE of us have been in the drug business for at least 25 years. Every one of us has at SOME time been hard pressed to "make that last payment" so that we could feel that we were IN BUSINESS! Our four stores are not the result of casual, haphazard effort but represent hard boiled sweat, unstinting "counter work" and many many hours of close "figgerin'" to gain a place in the sun!

And any success we may have attained, any monies we have spent in our flush moments have been spent happily and in most kindly spirits RIGHT HERE IN XENIA!

We always have felt without getting sobby about it that we were APPRECIATED. For it's a fact that we have appreciated all of YOU folks.

Just as YOUR job represents to YOU your livelihood, just so do our respective stores represent to us not only a hard working past but also a very important PRESENT and a DECIDEDLY important FUTURE.

As we stated last week "TIMES CHANGE!"

We must "change" WITH them—or be pushed out of the picture! After thinking it all over we all sort of felt that the easiest, safest and STRAIGHTEST road to shore was to adopt MODERN METHODS and TALK FACTS to you folks in language and manner that ANY one could see just CAME FROM THE HEART!

We mention this last so you'll be LOOKING for next week's advertisement. We hope you read it carefully.

It will be interesting—we HOPE! It's a FABLE!

DANGERS TO COUNTRY DESCRIBED TO D. A. R.

The dangers to the United States government from within and without its boundaries and the efforts being made by patriotic societies such as the Daughters of the American Revolution to spoil such attempts, were forcefully described by Mrs. A. C. Messenger, state chairman of International Relations of the D. A. R. to Catherine Greene Chapter, at the home of Mrs. W. Monroe, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Messenger, before entering into her main topic, first announced the lectures of this subject sent out by the Louisville Courier-Journal from Station WHAS, was length 461.2, at 4:05 p. m., every first Monday in the month.

Mrs. W. H. McGervey read an article pertaining to the socialistic activities of certain bodies in this country and Mrs. William Magee Wilson described the work of Jane Addams and others in the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

A brief business meeting, in charge of the vice regent, Mrs. Frank A. Jackson, preceded the talks.

A delightful social hour was held afterward, when Mrs. Monroe assisted by Mrs. Mary Little Dice and Mrs. John Birch, served dainty refreshments.

Three out-of-town guests, Mrs. Fred Zartman, Franklin, O.; Mrs. R. C. Jewell, San Antonio, Texas, and Mrs. Benjamin McMasers, of Zanesville, O., attended the meeting.

CORRY-ADAMS NUPTIALS IN ZANESVILLE WEDNESDAY

Nuptials uniting Miss Cornelia Adams, daughter of the late Judge John Jay Adams and Mr. Homer Campbell Corry, Springfield, took place at 4 p. m., Wednesday, at the country home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Hamm Black, Dresden Road, Zanesville.

Dr. Samuel S. Palmer, Broad St., Presbyterian Church, Columbus, read the services in the presence of only a few close friends and relatives.

The bride carried a prayer book which had been used by her mother, upon the occasion of her marriage in Zanesville. Unattended, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Jay Adams, Chicago. Her full tulle veil was combined with princess lace, which had been on her mother's wedding gown and her orange blossoms were those which had been worn by her mother and her aunt, Mrs. Robert Black, when they were brides. Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Kenneth Quinby, pianist and Miss Margaret Van Voorhis, singer.

After a wedding trip, the couple will reside at 260 Dover Road, Springfield. Miss Anna May Stewart, this city, aunt of the bridegroom, attended the wedding.

DAUGHTER OF YELLOW SPRINGS MAYOR MARRIED.

Old rose velvet was chosen to fashion the wedding gown of Miss Anna Louise Donley, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Thomas Donley of Yellow Springs, for her marriage to Mr. William N. Bolton, Jr., Springfield, at St. Paul's Catholic Church, Yellow Springs, Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock.

A large audience of friends and relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony. The bride's gown was replete with accessories of black. Her attendant, Miss Lillian Donley, her sister, wore a gown of blue velvet, with black accessories. The best man was Mr. Ward Bolton, Springfield, brother of the bridegroom.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis Koley. Immediately after the service, breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, with covers for thirty-five guests. Appointments of pink and white were employed. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton left Thursday morning for a short wedding trip. They will reside at 912 Link St., Springfield. The bride has been employed in the offices of the Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield and Mr. Bolton is an employee of the press department of the same concern.

RELATIVES GATHER FOR WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

The forty-eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Huston, east of Xenia, was appropriately celebrated when their children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and other relatives gathered at their home, Sunday.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL AT ELEAZER CHURCH

A guessing contest, in an attempt to divulge the identity of the various masqueraders, furnished amusement at the Halloween social at Eleazer Church, south of Xenia, Wednesday night. About seventy-five people were in attendance.

All the guests were dressed in ghost costumes which added to the Halloween spirit of the occasion. Contests and games were enjoyed during the evening.

The basement of the church was decorated with pumpkin faces and here the activities centered and lunch was served. Mrs. Thurman Middleton and Mrs. Joseph Mason were in charge of arrangements.

GRANTS JURY TRIAL TO ACCUSED DRIVER

Probate Judge S. C. Wright announced Thursday that he has granted the request of Elmer Smith, colored, Dayton, for a jury trial October 27 on a charge of operating an auto while intoxicated. A venire was expected to be drawn Thursday.

Smith is already charged with reckless driving in connection with an auto accident near Cedarville October 4, and the second charge was preferred Tuesday by Prosecutor J. C. Marshall.

Smith pleaded not guilty to both charges and a hearing on the reckless driving charge will not be held until after the jury trial October 27.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Oct. 20.—Shot and killed by game law violators or death from hernia, from which he suffered were the theories advanced today by the posse of men searching the Champion, Mich., game district for Lawrence Blaney, 58, game warden, who disappeared Sept. 12. Ed Stroud reports Blaney told him the night before he left for the woods to trail game violators he was going to a deer yard near Browns Farm, where considerable deer shooting has been done by violators from nearby towns.

PRESIDENT CHIDES SENATOR FESS FOR DOUBTING HIS WORD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Coolidge administered a verbal spanking today to those of his ardent supporters who have refused to accept at its face value his famous "I do not choose to run" announcement.

It was delivered through Senator Simeon Fess (R) of Ohio, who has been one of the most vocal of the Coolidge partisans in whipping up sentiment to have the next Republican national convention draft the president.

CR—ING NEW PROBLEMS

For three years ended December 31, 1925, farmers bought more than $1,000,000,000 worth of machinery; number of tractors increased 105.9 per cent in five years.

This great increase in farm machinery enables fewer farmers to produce America's food and feed crops, releasing vast amounts of human energy for other purposes.

To solve the problem, new industries must be found. Just what industries will be evolved cannot, of course, be foreseen, as the locomotive, the telephone, the motor car, the moving picture, the radio and the thousands of miles of improved highways could not be foreseen.

ELECTRIC LINES EXPANDING

"The electric railways of the United States are spending one million dollars per day in extension, improvement, betterment and new equipment," J. C. Royle, a New York financial writer, said in a recent news letter. "That," he added, "is the most conclusive answer that can be given as to the future of the street railways of the country."

"Much of the money has come direct from the patrons of the roads, who have become share and bondholders as well as passengers, and who are thoroughly familiar with the problems of the transportation companies."

"In the last 12 months, street railways carried 237,000,000 more passengers than in the previous annual period. The general fare for the companies as a whole is now 7 1/2 cents."

RECORD-HOLDERS

Can anyone tell me the name of the bright young man who holds the record for sitting on top of flagpoles?

Not that it matters. If anyone should mention the name, we probably would try to forget it at once, since most of us try to keep nonsensical data out of our minds as much as possible, so that there may be some room there for something important.

It is a question whether any sane adult, outside of the immediate family of the hero, ever remembers the name of a person who makes or wins a record for doing obviously trivial and useless things.

For instance, who were the male and female marathon fox-trot champions who held the spotlight of folly a few brief springs ago? What are those two remarkable individuals doing now, and have they managed to adapt themselves to the regular course of life, after a brief spurt of superficial fame.

The Way of the World

VERY HUMAN

Charlie White, Michigan City, Indiana, sold the furniture that had been given his family by charitable organizations. He took the money and bought an automobile. For this he is arrested and sent to jail. Poor Charlie, he is not unlike many of the rest of his silly struggling, erring, well-meaning, poor-doing fellows. Few of us sell the furniture and go to jail, but most of us, in one way or another, try to get what we want and pay a high price for it.

HEROES, LITTLE SONG

So many heroes—almost casual heroes, one might say—are little in the public eye. No one sings songs about them. No one nails up tablets. John Klein, "strong man" in a circus sideshow, is dead. He was getting a child out of the way of a rattlesnake. Doing so, he was bitten and soon died. So much—a line—for John Klein. He gave his life to save the life of another. Complete love—and it never occurred to John Klein to do otherwise.

AS TO WAR AGAIN

In Europe one hears the quiet remark that Germany will not be likely to go to war with Poland before 1932. That is five years—only a moment in history. It shows that the mind of man has not yet risen above the level of war. How little so-called great diplomats are when they can think only in one way. When diplomats of powerful nations plan war it simply means they are too stupid and too brutal in their thinking to devise a sane and intelligent method of reaching harmony.

DRAFT EVERYTHING

If our thinking must continue to be on a low level, if we must accept our own stupidity and think in terms of war, Gen. Summerall chief of staff of the U. S. army, has the right idea when he says the only way to conduct a war is to draft everything. He says: "Unless the country as a whole accepts the fundamental proposition that the entire United States will prosecute a war with the same spirit of self-sacrifice as the soldiers and sailors, the accountability for failure can not be laid to the armed forces."

If we must have war, why make a lot of boys and young men do all the suffering and the dying for us?

TAKING A CHANCE

A boy, just home in Brooklyn from a coast to coast hike, says he rode in 400 different vehicles. Drivers all along the way gave him a lift. He was pretty lucky. Probably his youth helped him. There are plenty of more sensible ways of showing kindness than to pick up strangers on the road. Better show your generosity elsewhere. Tramps are in no hurry. Few road hikers are on important missions.

EXACT TIME

A tourist passing through a country village found that his watch had stopped. Seeing a little boy standing outside of the village shop, he went up to him and said:

"Can you tell me the time, sonny?"

"Just 12 o'clock," was the reply.

"Only 12," said the tourist. "I thought it was more than that."

"It's never more in these parts," sir," answered the boy. "It goes up to 12 o'clock and then commences again at 1."

The Daybook

OF A

New Yorker

By
Burton Rascoe

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Twenty years ago, the august gentlemen who govern such affairs, decided to erect a suitable County Court-house. The building has been under construction throughout that period until it was finished about six months ago. It cost the local taxpayers about thirty-three million dollars. Certainly, then, one would think that such a place should be an example of the utmost perfection. And on most counts it is.

Yet after one mounts the impressive staircase, and enters the lobby, one is faced with two enormous and elaborately decorated clocks, on either side of the entrance. When these ornamental timepieces were first set in they ran correctly—at least for three days. But from that time on they have been disagreeing. The clock on the left side is usually nearer the correct time than its twin on the right. They are usually about two hours apart.

Obviously, this deficiency causes a great deal of trouble in the building. A lawyer enters, in haste to be on time for a case he is about to handle. He looks at the clock, which informs him that he has twenty minutes to wait. Upstairs, his case is actually being called. And the queer thing about this item is, that so far as I know, there has been not a single complaint about the clocks nor do those in charge seem to know that they are out of order. Knowing the ways of public buildings in this town as I do, I venture the guess that the clocks will go on being wrong until the building is torn down.

Recently, I watched a boy performing a novel brand of scull-duggery in City Hall Park. This happens to be one of the most popular rendezvous in the city for pigeons and the boy was fully aware of this, for he came well prepared. Under his arm, he carried a large basket, in which, as I observed, pigeons were packed together. The lad proceeded to the wall of the City Hall itself, and waited until a large number of wild pigeons had collected on the cornice above. Then with quick gestures, he sprayed the pigeons in the basket with a small atomizer. As I was standing fairly close, I recognized the odor of anise, an oil that is most attractive to pigeons.

Thereupon he released the pigeons in his basket. They swooped up above the cornice, carrying with them their flight feathers of the wild birds. It is a well known fact, that birds, as well as humans are attracted to flocks. The collection of pigeons, following a wide area returned to the boy below—and entered the basket. He closed it and with no further ado, headed for the subway, rich by several good birds for a few minutes of intelligent labor.

Strange as it may seem, actors and actresses in the audience are the most annoying of the late comers on opening nights at the theater. When they are on holiday they go to a show, like the postman who goes on a hike and the literary critic who, on holiday, reads a book. They always have friends in the audience, over whom they gush, especially if they are actresses getting on in years. Some sections of the orchestra of a theater on an opening night is like a homecoming half through the first act.

A Great Stunt If He Can Get Away With It!

KELLYGRAMS BY FRED C. KELLY

TWO KINDS OF AUTOMOBILIOUSNESS

Two acquaintances of mine, Charlie Dinwiddie and Fred Haggerty, bought automobiles at about the same time. Each of these men has plenty of money and could have any make or grade of car that the market offered. Dinwiddie inquired until he learned which is the highest-priced automobile now made, and bought it. Haggerty—of equal wealth and social standing, remember—got himself a Ford.

Since then I have had much quiet amusement noting the difference in the way these two men feel about their purchases. One is about as proud of his car and of his ownership as the other—but for widely divergent reasons. Haggerty is forever boasting about what big mileage he gets from a gallon of gasoline; Dinwiddie seems to glory in the fact that his mileage is extremely low.

Dinwiddie likes to have his friends see that he is capable of being not only extravagant, but of maintaining his good humor in the face of a large and unexpected expenditure.

His attitude is: "My car costs twice as much to operate as it's worth, but heigh-ho, what care I? I'm above being downcast over such trifles."

Haggerty's great pride is his common sense and shrewdness in not paying more for any service than it is worth. He would be much embarrassed if he thought that any other car owner gets off any more cheaply and with less trouble than he. If he has tire trouble on his way into town and has to stop at a garage, he speaks of it in a shame-faced manner. He wants no one to think he is rich and careless and hit a nail he should have missed.

Under similar circumstances, Dinwiddie would be all aglow with pride. He would be willing to have something wrong with his costly car every day, because in referring to his troubles, he feels a little sense of martyrdom. He probably wants people to think: "Poor old Charlie. His car gives him more trouble than anybody's I ever heard of. And yet how bravely he bears up."

So far as I know, Dinwiddie has never cleaned a spark plug or tightened a nut. He employs a chauffeur to do these things. He is proud of not being able to comprehend the workings of the engine or to make even the simplest adjustments.

This inability he regards as a trifling small lien against a big estate.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Hands Are One of the Three Tests of Beauty

Today I am going to discuss the hands from a very special standpoint, that of their relation to age. Have you ever had the experience of seeing a very attractive, charming woman, whose face and hair had the glow of youth, but whose hands completely changed the picture? I have often had that experience. I know women who spend thousands of dollars a year to keep appearance of youth in their faces, and yet they completely forget their hands. But those who see them do not forget. You would be surprised to know how much men will judge a woman's age by her hands.

It is so very easy to keep your hands attractive and young-looking that there is no real excuse for neglecting them. If you keep your hands elastic and give them all of the softening creams and lotions they require, you are doing much to keep them young. However, there are very definite means of calling back the look of youth once it has been allowed to take its flight.

There are two main symptoms of aging hands. One is fat padding on the backs of the hands and in the fingers. The other is wrinkles, with its frequent accompaniment of prominent veins.

Much can be done for too-fat hands by exercise and massage. Use the exercise, of which I told you in my last talk, stretching the fingers as wide apart as you can, and then reversing and clenching your fists. Then stretch between the fingers of each hand with the fingers of the other hand. To make the fingers slender, massage them toward the arm, as if you were putting on imaginary gloves. It is best to grease them well, first, with a good massage cream. Start by pinching at the sides of the fingers to make them tapering. It is well to use a reducing soap or jelly to eliminate the excess fat. It is simply patted in and allowed to be absorbed. In the backs of the wrists have a tendency toward fatty lumps when the hands are inclined to be pudgy. To banish these, massage up the arm. Also, it is good to shake the wrists freely, as I described in my last talk, relaxing the arms.

Skinny hands or wrinkled hands must be nourished with rich feeding anti-wrinkle creams. If convenient, keep this on overnight. On gloves, from which the fingers have been cut can be worn to prevent soiling the bed linen.

If there are prominent veins in your hands, hold them up to the level of your head and massage down toward the arm.

Hands are satisfied with so little care, and respond so readily to the few minutes you give them, that it is an actual joy to work with them. But as sure as the passing of time, they will show symptoms of age if they are left untended. I believe the extra minute or two a day you give to your hands is one of the best beauty investments there is. My next subject is going to deal with the beauty of well-groomed hands and arms in the evening décolleté. The subject of my talk will be: "Your Hands and Arms Are Vital to Social Success."

Peter's Adventures

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent.

Uncle Rastus Loses His Boast

"My whiskers, but it is terrible to be pounced upon without a moment's warning! I could feel the fur on my back standing up stiff as the quills on old Porcupine's body! Thump! thump! thump! Woodpecker could pound no louder than did my heart, and in my ears was the sound of rushing water. And my paws—pooh! I might as well have had only claws like Robin. Usually so strong, suddenly my paws had become weak and I could not make them grasp the branch on which I had been curled up when trouble overtook me!

Mrs. Possum shuddered as she thought of that twilight hour, long ago.

Then Mrs. Possum stretched out her hind foot and pointed to her toes.

"See! I have five fingers and a thumb," said she, and Peter, who had supposed it would be just like any other creature's paw, was surprised to see that it really looked much like a hand. Mrs. Possum continued:

"When I am not scared to death I can hold on to a branch so tightly that the mightiest Two-Legs cannot shake me off. But as I said, fear made me weak and so my hands—that's what we Possums call them—would not serve me in my time of need. Swish! Plump! I was jerked from my branch and found myself hanging head down, held by my tail. It was only holding my breath, though I hadn't lost it all. I peeped from between my eyelids. Right straight ahead of me was an open window! When Uncle Rastus turned to fan the flame over which, in a very few moments he intended to roast me for his supper, I jumped to my feet and ran across the floor like a streak of greased lightning and leaped through that open window."

am in luck. Ah'm gwine to roast mah Possum fo' suppah! Possum am sma'at, but Uncle Rastus sho am sma'ater!"

"Chuckling and shaking his old black head, Uncle Rastus carried me home. When he reached the garden gate what do you suppose he did? Banged my head against a post. Hard, too! My, but it hurt. But after one squeak I never stirred, never even groaned, and Uncle Rastus, thinking he had knocked the breath out of my body, laid me on the cabin floor. I was only holding my breath, though I hadn't lost it all. I peeped from between my eyelids. Right straight ahead of me was an open window! When Uncle Rastus turned to fan the flame over which, in a very few moments he intended to roast me for his supper, I jumped to my feet and ran across the floor like a streak of greased lightning and leaped through that open window."

Behind The Scenes In Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—After all, what difference does it make whether our next president is a dry or a wet? The country's dry by constitution and by act of congress. The president's sworn to uphold the one and enforce the other, whatever his personal ideas may be.

You hear this proposition advanced quite frequently. But a great many people seem to think it makes a decided difference whether the next president is wet or dry.

Why? Probably the best answer to our question is to be found in the views of Anti-Saloon League workers in Washington, who certainly can be regarded as representative drys.

Before his death, Wayne B. Wheeler had outlined for the league, plans intended to guarantee a bone-dry president for the 1929-33 term. He evidently thought it mattered. F. Scott McBride, Dr. Wheeler's successor, at least "pro tem," is overlooking no bets to see that the Wheeler program is carried out to the last detail. He thinks it matters, too. Having found out how the drys feel about it, we can easily determine how the wets must feel, by simply turning the drys' reasoning exactly around.

Suppose we do have a president, who, though wet in his individual sympathies, nevertheless means to enforce the law. He may go through the motions, but it isn't to be expected that he'll have much hear in them.

His secretary of the treasury, at the head of all federal enforcement machinery, and his attorney general, in charge of all prosecutions under the prohibition act, presumably will be officials like their chief. Besides, as we proceed downward from the White House, in the direction of the departments, we shall find that a little additional enthusiasm has oozed out.

Treasury and justice department underlings—assistants, field agents, district attorneys, marshals and the like—will sense their superiors' indifference and their activities will be perfunctory.

lory at best—not to mention out-and-out "Black sheep."

All these officials are presidential appointees. So are the federal judges of the district and circuit courts, of whom many, out of considerably more than 100 on the bench, are named by every president.

A magistrate who regards violations of a certain law with a recent eye is unlikely to deal out severe sentences under it, in the dry's estimation, and, doubtless without conscious bias, he can readily construe the rules of evidence so as to make convictions under it difficult.

In all probability, too, the next president will have several appointments to make to the federal supreme court.

We touch now on a very sensitive dry spot.

The supreme court interprets the law and its interpretations are about as important as the law itself. The present supreme justices' rulings have been, in the main, satisfactorily dry, but, of the present nine justices, not one will be more than 60 years old before the next presidential term ends. Six will be more than 70, three will be more than 75, and Justice Holmes, if he lives, will be past 90.

It's quite possible, the dry note, that the next president will put a majority of his own selection on the federal supreme bench.

The drys don't assert that a wet president's election would mean an immediately wet country. They do believe four years of him would gravely undermine the dry law's enforcement, if not the law itself.

Put this argument in reverse, and you have the wets.

A market report says that calves are higher. We didn't suppose they were higher but just more visible.—Lumberman (Chicago).

Euphemistic expression of polite fiction is that the college boys and girls have returned to their studies.—Arkansas Gazette.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Wanderlust

Here is a young man whose irresponsible desire to wander causes him to worry as to what's wrong with him. But who is wise enough to tell him? Do we not all in a way roam through life, always searching, never quite sure about anything, most always dissatisfied with the things attained. He writes:

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I don't know what seems to be wrong with me. I always want to travel, but it gets on my nerves when I am on board of ship or on a train and feel so lonely and lonesome. I just hate it. But when I hear a train whistle it is like a voice from heaven that is calling me. Now don't tell me to settle down and get married. I cannot do that because I hate women and haven't talked to one for three years."

You haven't talked to a woman for three years? Maybe that's where your trouble lies. No influence in a man's life, from its earliest, is quite so stimulating as his association with fine women. Also, if you could find some absorbing interest or some creative work upon which you could concentrate, your roving inclination might cease to have such strong hold upon you.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I am very very unhappy because I can't get along with my mother. She is quick tempered and awfully disagreeable and we have many quarrels, which made it unbearable for me.

"LAWRENCE."

"I don't stand it—I won't stand it! That woman in your office knows much more about your real self than I. She answers your letters. She meets your business associates, and your men friends; she makes your engagements with other people, and your excuses when you break them with me."

"She keeps your personal checkbook, she knows the 35¢ knows more about your financial affairs than I. Why, she even knows how much money you give me for my personal expenses and how many of my bills you pay."

"She is really more necessary to you than I. She might be called your 'daytime wife.'"

"You must get rid of that young woman or I will get rid of you."

These were the accusations of a wife to her husband when talking of his stenographer.

That he did not get rid of her, she considered cause for divorce, and the above was a part of her deposition.

But I love her and this makes me very sad. Besides this I am so lonesome because I don't have any friends, as the ones I know I do not care for and I would give anything for a good girl chum. If only mother would change.

"LONELY READER."

Nothing on earth is as sweet as the love of your mother. Even if it seems hard, go to her, tell her you love her and want nothing more than to be close to her and have her as a friend. She, too, probably suffers keenly that her daughter is cold and distant and quarrels with her. Once you have overcome this difficulty, you soon will find other friends and the world will seem to you as glorious place to live in.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I am 20 years old and am going with a boy four months my junior. I love him with all my heart and soul and he loves me the same. When I was 15 I made a big mistake, but I told him about my past and he says I am still too good for any man that walks. But will he stay that way when we are married, and should I marry him? Oh, I want him to be happy and if you say he will be happy with me, I will marry him and be so good he would never have to worry about me."

"EXPERIENCED AND WAITING."

really invaluable to me. She not only does all the things that my wife accused her of doing—they are only the duties that go with the job of "secretary" (to coin a verb)—but she also does many, many things that my wife should have done and did not.

"My secretary never nags—she knows if she did she would be fired."

"My wife, on the contrary, knew she could say anything she wished and I'd have to stand for it. I could not discharge her at will."

"My secretary 'apparently' is never curious. She answers my letters without a change of countenance, even when I know that any human being would have some curiosity on the subject that I am discussing, most personally with a friend."

"She repeats excuses to importunate callers that she knows are untrue and keeps important business visitors in a happy frame of mind until she knows I can see them."

"She probably hates fe, or if she does not go as far as that, she despises my weakness, but she never lets me know it by word or look."

"My 'daytime wife' plays the marriage game perfectly."

Memo: Marriageable women are many, for every woman, good or bad or indifferent, wants to marry, but a perfect secretary is very hard to get.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS EARN SUSPENSIONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Indiana suspension of "Bucky" O'Neill, halfback, and "Mosby" Mosko, tackle, and suspension for one week of Johnny Hannegan, halfback, for failure to observe training rules after the game with Syracuse last Saturday, was announced today by Coach Lou Little of Georgetown university.

He held discipline to be more important than winning football games. As the suspension in Hannegan's case began last Saturday, there is a possibility that he will be played against the Mountaineers.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 20.—One more veteran was lost to the Illinois varsity today for the game against Northwestern Saturday when the faculty department confirmed the report of Arthur D'Ambrasio's suspension for violation of the no-car rule for students. Coach Zupke had moved D'Ambrasio from an end position to fullback to strike a balance in the Illinois backfield.

Quality Leadership the Backbone of its Supremacy

Hudson design attains its great margins of supremacy in performance and reliability, only because it is accompanied by an equally pre-eminent leadership of quality in materials and workmanship. The great suppliers will tell you that its material standards are more exacting than many of the costliest cars. Its precision manufacture is carried to limits as fine as automobile practice has ever achieved. And its standards are guarded by inspection as careful, and watchful, as these rigid principles of quality themselves.

High Compression Performance that thrills the most Veteran Experts

By the Automobile Expert of "Automobile Topics"

"It has... all the 'punch' in the world... a smart push in the back every time the accelerator pedal is trod upon. Throughout its whole range, the response to throttle seems to be precisely the same. 'Soft spots' are simply not to be found.

"... it will walk away from the traffic signal faster than anything Hudson has ever built. It will step out of line and jump into the lead from any speed without the slightest hesitation.

"But further, all this is accomplished without a vestige of that tinkle-tinkle business under the hood that Englishmen know as 'pinking' and American engineers as the gas knock, or detonation. Apparently this present Hudson engine just isn't going to 'ping' when the throttle is quickly opened, or when the car is driven hard against a hill.

"Under precisely similar conditions most any other modern engine will detonate when running on ordinary fuel...

"The Hudson motor does what it does on any old fuel at all, it is said, and assuredly does it on the run of pump fuel that is sold at base prices every where."

Keep Kidneys Active!

You Can't Feel Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly.

To feel always tired, lame and aching is too often a sign of improper kidney action. When the kidneys act sluggishly, waste poisons remain in the blood, and are apt to make one languid, stiff and aching, with dull headaches, dizziness and often nagging backache. A common warning that the kidneys are not acting right is scanty or burning secretions. Assist the kidneys with Doan's Pills. Doan's, a stimulant diuretic, increase kidney activity. Are endorsed from coast to coast. Ask your neighbor!

"Yes, Willard Mack is right, Luckies are best," says Paul Berlenbach

Popular pugilist tells his manager, Benedict Sterns, that Lucky Strikes are the finest cigarettes.

Willard Mack,
Noted Author, Producer and Actor, writes:

"We people of the theatre are, as a rule, extremists. This is the reflex action from overwrought nerves. When a man smokes forty cigarettes a day, as I do, he must be sure of his brand. I smoke Lucky Strikes because I have found they are soothing to the nerves and at the same time they cause no throat irritation. My voice is always in perfect condition and I am never troubled by any coughing which might be annoying to me in my work as an actor."

Willard Mack

You, too, will find that LUCKY STRIKES give the greatest pleasure—Mild and Mellow, the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. Made of the choicest tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"IT'S TOASTED"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

BOOST HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION WITH MOTOR DELEGATION

Smaller Greene County towns will be reminded Friday evening of the fact that Xenia is to have a big Halloween celebration according to the plans of the booster delegation for the Halloween event.

Members of the Xenia Community Band, who are sponsoring the celebration, and all others who care to join the delegation, will meet in front of the Court House Friday evening at five o'clock and will start on the booster tour which will include Jamestown, Cedarville, Yellow Springs, Osborn and Fairfield.

All business men or others who will bring their car and get in line will be welcomed by the celebration promoters. Any one who would like to help in the boosting but is not able to furnish a car is asked to be at the Court House at the starting time and a place will be found for them in an auto. Everyone is asked to bring horns, noise makers of any kind, or Halloween decorations for the car. If the last is convenient.

The delegation plans to give each town a rousing announcement of Xenia's coming Halloween frolic.

Members of the band who have started the soliciting of prizes for the various events in the Halloween program report that they are meeting with great success.

BOMBAY CHILDREN MARRY UNDER FIVE

BOMBAY, India, Oct. 20.—Seventy-four thousand children under five years of age are married in the presidency of Bombay, according to statistics revealed here today.

Three thousand little girls of that number are widows. The children were engaged or actually married under the Indian custom of mating young children.

The statistics were gathered in support of three bills for Indian social reforms, which will soon be introduced in the Indian legislature. These measures will deal with child marriage and child engagements.

Although the English have introduced many reforms in India, they have never interfered with the customs of child marriages. The matter has been left to the Indians themselves to reform if they saw fit.

All Scouts in Troops No. 41, 43, and 45 are urged to turn out Thursday night to complete the work at the new Scout cabin northwest of Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

"As the cabin is now ready for use with the exception of a little cleaning up around the premises, it is urgent that we do this at once and get the job over," announces Deputy Scout Commissioner R. H. Kingsbury.

"Scouts will report at 6:30 and a couple of hours should see the job finished. Don't leave this to the other fellow but be there."

Next week will be celebrated as Scout Week and the Scout cabin will be formally opened and put into use. Scouts, their parents and all who are interested in Scouting are invited to inspect the new structure.

"We sincerely wish to thank again at this time, all those persons, who by their donations to The Old Scout Association, or by their labor, have made our local Scout headquarters possible," Kingsbury declares.

EDUCATION BOARD OF BATH TWP. FILES AMENDED BUDGET

Board of Education of Bath Twp., consolidated school district has filed an amended budget with the County Budget Commission, calling for $7,184 for expenses in 1928, a reduction of $14,000 from the aggregate requests in the budget

previously filed, according to County Auditor R. O. Wead.

The original budget as submitted called for $68,184 in the general fund inside the fifteen-mill limitation; $19,930 outside of all limitations in the bond interest and sinking fund and an additional levy of two mills for the school, authorized by the voters of Bath Twp.

The levy was originally for three mills but only one mill was levied for the fiscal year 1927 with the result the 1928 Bath budget requested that the remaining two mills be levied for school purposes.

Based on a tax duplication of $7,000,000, this extra two mills, if levied for 1928, would be approximately $14,000, which, added to the other amounts, would have brought the total requests for next year to $101,184, instead of $87,184.

A published article by H. E. Zuber, Bath school superintendent, stating the 1928 budget has been misinterpreted, led Auditor Wead

to inform the Bath school board of its mistake.

The school board rectified the error in a letter received Thursday, which declared the amount desired in the 1928 budget is only $87,184.

In order to reduce the present budget on file to this figure, Auditor Wead will reduce the local tax levy for the school district inside the fifteen-mill limitation, about two mills for 1928, a cut of substantially $14,000.

FUNERAL OF PISTOL VICTIM STILL PENDS

Coroner F. M. Chambliss was awaiting further developments Thursday before arriving at a decision as to whether to hold an inquest in connection with the fatal shooting of Ephraim Beachan, 40, colored, Birmingham, Ala., by Fred O. Lieurance, Pennsylvania Railroad detective, who resorted to a revolver when the negro showed fight in resisting arrest in the East End railway yards Monday night.

Undertakers Johnson and Watkins still have charge of the body and no funeral services have been arranged inasmuch as attempts to locate relatives of Beachan have been without success.

GLASSES NEARLY
COST HIM LIFE
IN PRISON

MAX GOTTLIEB WITH AND WITHOUT TROUBLESOME "SPECS."

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Max Gottlieb won't throw away his spectacles though they nearly cost him life imprisonment.

In a dingy Forsyth street restaurant, down on the lower East Side, Maxie waits on table and regales his customers with the tale of how he nearly served a life term in Sing Sing for a crime he did not commit—all on account of his "cheaters."

"But I won't throw 'em away," says Maxie, also known to police as Mr. Max Green. "Why should I? I need them to see."

Five months ago, police came to Forsyth street and hauled Maxie away. He was identified as the man who sold pieces of glass for diamonds.

The judge took a good look at Gottlieb and so did the jury. He had been convicted for larceny three times and now, an apparent fourth offender, he was liable to life imprisonment as an habitual criminal.

In vain did Maxie protest his innocence. He said he hadn't "pulled a job" for ten years. He pointed to his family of a wife and two daughters. Would he risk another "job"? No sir! Not Maxie.

Sciatic-Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoot down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenru Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. Sayre's Drug Store keeps Allenru Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it. —Adv.

But the jury thought otherwise. Detective Sergeant William Drum of the pickpocket squad wasn't satisfied Maxie was the man, although the victims of the diamond swindle positively identified him. Drum went out and arrested one Abraham Schwartz, a dead ringer for Max.

They were getting ready to ship Gottlieb up to the "big house" at Sing Sing when Schwartz confessed and Maxie was freed. Now he is back at Forsyth street where he thought he never would be again. Perched on his nose are the spectacles which make Maxie look like Schwartz's twin brother.

Schwartz is in jail. Maxie has quit worrying.

SIMON KENTON SALT
KETTLE IS FOUND

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Oct. 20.—After a search of several months, W. J. Curtis, of Pike, representative from the Nicholas-Robertson district, has found an old iron kettle which was used by early pioneers in boiling salt at Blue Lick Springs. This is one of the kettles given to the pioneers by Virginia before Kentucky became a state. It formerly belonged to "Aunt" Hilda Whaley who died sixteen years ago at the age of 102.

Mrs. Whaley was a Kenton, a descendant of Simon Kenton, the pioneer Indian fighter. Her father obtained the kettle from Simon Kenton. Originally the kettle was of 60-gallon capacity, but the top of the vessel has been eaten away by the salt. So far as is known this is the only salt boiling kettle in existence in that section. Curtis found it at the home of a farmer near Blue Licks and has added it to his large collection of relics of pioneer days.

CIRCUS CONFUSES
ROANOKE AND MARS

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 20.—Charges that two Negro boys were abducted and held in virtual slavery by Ringling Brothers Circus were contained in attachment suits for $100,000 on file here today. They were filed by T. W. Messick, Roanoke lawyer.

He charged that Willie and George Muse of Roanoke, were exhibited as freaks as "ambassadors from Mars" and were held against their will by the circus. Action was brought on behalf of their mother who recognized the boys when the circus was showing in Roanoke. The suit charged that she tried for several years to find the boys after their alleged abduction by the circus.

FORTY AIRPORTS IN
OHIO U. S. COMMERCE
DEPARTMENT FINDS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 20.—Forty airports and emergency landing fields are now in operation in Ohio according to records compiled by the U. S. Commerce Department. Plans for nineteen more are now under way.

The fields now in operation were established by the military branches of the federal government, by the commerce department and the airmail service and a few by cities and private interests.

Dayton heads the list with four airplane landing and construction fields; Zanesville and Columbus each have three; Akron, Cincinnati, Bryan and Cleveland come next with two in each city. The following cities each have one airport: Toledo, Camp Perry, Elyria, Cleveland, Parkman, Youngstown, Ada, Mansfield, Canton, Wooster, Middletown, London, and Troy.

The commerce department of the United States federal government has plans for building airports at Kent, Findlay, Gallon, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Greenville, Hamilton and Portsmouth. If these landing fields are built they will be owned and operated by the cities in which they are located. The landing fields at the larger cities are well equipped with landing lights, danger marks, repair shops and comfortable quarters for the plane pilots.

TOLEDO SITE ONCE
BOTTOM OF OCEAN

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 20.—Conclusive proof that the land upon which Toledo now stands once was the bottom of an ocean bay again has been brought to light through the work and studies of Charles D. Miller, Sylvania, O.

Scientists long have paid little attention to it until recently. Miller has devoted much of his time to collecting trilobites, to be found in quarries at Sylvania near his home. These small fossils are held to be inhabitant of the globe fifty million years ago. The fossils have been turned up by steam shovels excavating shale for the manufacture of cement. Specimens Miller has acquired now grace many of the museums of the world.

The small animals lived only in salt water, it is said, and for that reason, scientists advance the theory that this part of the Lake region was once under salt water of the ocean. A collection of the fossils has been brought to Toledo for display in a show window.

Under a temporary restraining order granted in Common Pleas Court in the injunction suit filed by David B. Watt and Thurman and Irma J. Early against Clarence S. Mangan, the defendant is enjoined from removing any corn from the farm on which he is a tenant and also from interfering with Watt on any of his visits to the farm.

In the suit, Watt sets forth that he owns a 147-acre farm in Xenia, Ohio, on which the defendant is a tenant. The tenant lease expires March 1, 1928. Watt states that Plaintiff declares Mangan is a tenant under the usual terms that each has an equal interest in the hay and feed and in hogs raised on the farm.

In the summer of 1927 the wheat and oats were threshed, the straw ricked and the arrangements with the tenant are that the rough feed such as straw and fodder, should be fed on the premises with the tenant having no right to sell or dispose of the straw without the consent of Watt, plaintiffs charge.

Plaintiff charges the defendant now plans to sell the straw, or at least one-half of it, without his consent.

Watt alleges Mangan has notified him not to come to the farm any more under a threat of personal violence.

Plaintiff complains that he has property and interest on the farm which require his attention and charges that Mangan, unless restrained, will prevent him from looking after his property and interests.

Watt states that he contracted with Thurman and Irma J. Early for sale of the real estate, the sale to be consummated March 1, 1928, and declares they are therefore made party plaintiffs to the action for the reason they have contractual relations and an interest in the property after that date. Miller and Finney are attorneys for the plaintiff.

PARTITION ASKED

Partition of real estate is sought in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by J. C. Townsley against Clara T. Morton, Robert R. Townsley, Alfred Townsley, 19, a minor, Mart T. Gibson and Ralph Hollenbeck, as administrator of the estate of Harry S. Townsley, deceased. Miller and Finney are attorneys for the plaintiff.

DISMISS APPEAL

By consent, the petition in error filed in the Court of Appeals by Sam Andrews against the Board of Education of Xenia, Ohio, Rural School District, has been dismissed, according to an entry on file in Common Pleas Court.

NAMED ADMINISTRATOR

J. C. Townsley has been appointed administrator of the estate of Malinda C. Townsley, late of Cedarville, with bond of $1,500 in Probate Court.

ESTATES VALUED

Estimated gross value of the estate of Julia D. McGervey, deceased, is placed at $59,752.01 in Probate Court, composed as follows: personalty, $32,048.25, and real estate, $27,703.75. Debts are listed at $2,487.21 and the cost of administration at $75, leaving a net value of $57,189.80.

Gross value of the estate of Vica D. Cooper, deceased, is estimated at $8,535, composed of personalty worth $1,935 and real estate valued at $7,000. Debts are listed at $873 and the cost of administration is $54, leaving a net market value of $7,378.

INVENTORIES FILED

Coroner Frank M. Chambliss has filed three inventories in Probate Court containing lists of articles taken from the bodies of Frank J. Snyder, Margaret Snyder and Anna Newton. The court ordered the articles turned over to John Reger, who is administrator of each estate.

MAYBE HE WAS HUNGRY

Xenia was thrown into a mild uproar Thursday morning when the factory whistle at The R. A. Kelly Co. screeched forth at 10:30 o'clock instead of 11:30, the usual time it is blown to advise employees of "quitting time."

Phone calls poured into the firm's office inquiring as to the reason for this unprecedented occurrence. Whispers of a fire were heard on many lips. James E. Graham, engineer at the plant, had merely made a mistake in glancing at the factory clock and had read the time incorrectly. He was being "kidded" by fellow workers Thursday. No confusion resulted at the plant.

Infant Care

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless and reliable, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will bring her baby's stomach and end almost any little ill throughout the system. Fretfulness and fever, too; it seems no time until everything is serene.

That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence seems just what is needed. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, and without shock to the system. Without the evil taste. Castoria is delicious! Your tongue will tell you why "Children Cry for It." Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's the least sign of solid constipation; diarrhea. Or whenever there's need to aid sound, natural sleep.

Only one word of warning; the above is true of genuine Castoria. Fletcher's is the original. Other preparations may or may not be as

Had a Bad Cold But Accepted!

The theatre that evening, though her nose was red and eyes were running—For six hours is enough to conquer almost any cold. Here's what to do:

Take a plain, pleasant-tasting tablet which the smallest drugstore is never without. Pape's Cold Compound is what they call it. Harmless as it is, it will knock the worst cold—so quickly you'll think it was luck the first time.

A stubborn, chronic cold is broken-up the same way; it just takes a little longer.

POPULAR SONGS NOT MORE IMMORAL THAN OPERA SAYS DOCTOR

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The words and tune of "Red Hot Mommer," and similar jazz effusions may be "hot" but nowhere near so hot as the words and lovely music of "Tristan and Isolde," in the opinion of Dr. Alex S. Hershfield, state dentist.

"Some of the stories, lines and music of the so-called standard operas are more immoral, if you wish to know, than most of the popular songs of the day," said Dr. Hershfield.

His statement was inspired by the warning of Ambrose Wyrick, a noted singer, who cautioned young women not to wed the men who go shopping for loads of jazz records and impolite songs.

"Of course, 'Tristan and Isolde' is the most notably passionate of all the operas," added Dr. Hershfield. "The sullen, insidious warmth of the music rises to a very ecstasy of sensual rapture. Yet listening to such music, one does not feel it lowers the moral standards of the public."

Dr. Hershfield is so enthusiastic an opera fan that he has had operatic stars sing for his patients at the Tuning, Ill., asylum for the insane.

This musical therapy has won widespread attention from alienists throughout the country.

"There is much less of things we call suggestive in popular songs and titles than there is in books and pictures," concludes Dr. Hershfield. "There is no danger that our democracy will go on the rocks, or that marriage will be made less sacred because people sing and dance to jazz music."

FEAR SPREADING OF GERMANY'S STRIKE

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—Further spread of the miners' strike now in progress in Germany was feared today when the anthracite miners of the Ruhr valley demanded a wage increase and were met with refusal by the operators.

The government arbitration commission met today to attempt a reconciliation between the striking lignite miners and their employers. It was feared, however, that the anthracite miners would strike before this dispute could be settled.

ASKS PARDON AFTER SERVING 44 YEARS

WAUPUN, Wis., Oct. 20.—After spending forty-four years in the state penitentiary here, George Retek is seeking a pardon.

Retek was convicted on June 16, 1883, in Manitowoc County circuit court of the murder of his wife with an ax.

He was captured later in Milwaukee where he was working on the flour docks. Following his imprisonment in the county jail at Manitowoc he escaped, and was captured in a hollow pine tree near Manitowoc.

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back, sick headache, dizziness, your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, and channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

THINKING MACHINE LATEST INVENTION MADE BY SCIENTISTS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 20.—A "thinking machine" an electrical device which thinks for itself, has been developed in the department of electrical engineering of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"Into this mechanical mind can be fed the conditions of a mathematical problem too complex for the human brain to master, and it will promptly grind out the answer and write it down as efficiently as a machine takes on lumber and chemicals and produces finished boxes of matches, read an astounding announcement from technology today.

The "thinking machine" was invented by Dr. Vannevar Bush, professor of electrical power transmission, and a staff of research workers. It is called "The Product Integrator," work was begun on it several years ago to meet the need for a machine which would automatically solve problems of advanced electrical theory rapidly and accurately.

"The Product Integrator might be called an adding machine carried to an extreme," said Professor Bush. "Where workers in the business world are ordinarily satisfied with addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of numbers, the engineer deals with curves and graphs which represent for him the past and present and future of the things in which he deals."

The Integrator, a device of electrical measurements, gears and recording tables, is virtually a man-made brain which transcends human reasoning and readily plots the answer to problems that cannot now be solved by formal mathematics. It requires from eight minutes to a few hours to make computations which would take an engineer from a month to a year to work out by ordinary methods.

"The foundation of the Integrator is a watt-hour meter, of the same type as is in everyone's home for recording the amount of power which is used from time to time, and records the sum on its dials.

ENGAGE MARION MAN TO ADDRESS EAGLES INITIATION HERE

John Abel, Marion, O., state president of Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be the main speaker at initiatory exercises for what is known as the Twentieth Anniversary class of candidates of Xenia Aerie, No. 1689 Friday night at the Aerie hall.

Mr. Abel is being brought to Xenia under auspices of the Grand Aerie organization department. The anniversary class is expected to shatter all previous records with regard to the number initiated.

Satisfactory progress is being made in the fall membership drive, which was formally opened recently by the address of Lady M. Layton, Springfield, under auspices of the state organization department, according to the committee in charge.

Worthy President George Killen, commenting on the present campaign for new members, said: "It is pleasing to note the large number of young men who are joining the Eagles. Last year, despite industrial depression in the large cities, the order initiated more than 90,000 candidates, bringing the total membership in the United States well over the 700,000 mark. This year further large gains are being made."

FORMER XENIA MAN, FATHER OF DAYTON OFFICIAL, IS DEAD

Valentine L. Stocklein, 67, native of Xenia and father of E. V. Stocklein, director of public welfare in Dayton, died at his home, 220 K St., Dayton, at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday night. Death was due to chronic heart disease, from which he had suffered for a year.

Mr. Stocklein was born in Xenia September 12, 1860 and moved to Dayton with his parents when ten years of age. Since that time he had resided in that city.

Retiring from active life three years ago, he had enjoyed good health until a year ago and had been confined to bed for the last six weeks by illness.

He was in charge of the plumbing and fitting department at the National Cash Register Co. for more than twenty years and later occupied a similar position for ten years at the General Motors Co. plant at Moraine City.

Surviving is his widow, Anna B.; two sons, Edward V., who is welfare director; and Clarence J., Dayton attorney; and one daughter, Mrs. Winifred M. Walsh.

Funeral services will be held at the residence at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and a solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at Holy Angels Church in Dayton at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

PASSENGER PLANE TO HELP DEDICATE TOLEDO AIR FIELD

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 19.—For the celebration of the opening of the new airport being established here, an eight-passenger plane will fly here from Chicago, it has been announced by Captain William H. Lehniger, member of the Toledo airport commission, who is arranging for the formal opening of the port on October 29.

The plane will be one owned by the National Air Transport Co. L. D. Seymour, general manager, will be a passenger in the plane.

With the plans for the opening celebration nearly completed now has come word that the port probably will not be used by the transport company as a stop on the national air mail route because it is about sixteen miles off the line of the route.

Shortly after the port site was selected this question arose. Some efforts were made to locate the port south of the city because it would be more nearly on a line with the transcontinental path of the airman.

Officials of the company likewise say that the lights of the city, over which airman would have to fly to get to the port, would be confusing.

Avonne Taylor, popular movie star, is here shown wearing an evening wrap made of oval material. It's orchid colored satin edged all the way around with a narrow band of white fox fur.

JOHN MOORE, New York business man, goes to Tucson, Ariz., on business, expecting to return to New York the next day. He meets a college associate, Philip Morton, who has business in Mexico. Both drink heavily of tequila and in the subsequent mixup in identity Moore finds himself in Mexico.

He has in his possession a portrait of a girl which had been Morton's. The girl, Ruth Henshaw, sends her ambassador, Ramon, to tell the supposed Morton that she will meet him at the church at Tubutama. She needs his help. He meets her, also, at the home of Mr. Dave Daugherty and wife, of South Charleston, it being Mr. Daugherty's sixtieth birthday.

Mrs. William Sheely and son used it long ago. It is all blackened with smoke.

"Then we can build a fire in it, as I suggested."

"I hope we can't! Just to show you! Stuart said they might have to blast away more of it and I hope they did."

"Did you say 'Stuart'?" What Stuart?" asked John Moore.

"Stuart Long. This is his father's ranch. He showed me this cave years ago!"

"Cave Long!" exclaimed John triumphantly. "That's where I heard of Arivaal Stew's ranch! The Ambassador gave me a Mexican name—Ricardo."

"Ricardo, the foreman! How do you happen to know Stuart Long?"

John caught the note of deep surprise in her voice, and laughed aloud. He was tingling with sudden realization.

"It didn't happen!" he leaned over and gripped the back of her saddle so that his arm was half around her. "You won't believe it yet, but you will, you will! It didn't just happen. I tell you. It was all meant to be! The Ruth's cry. He first Wong lying beside the auto, stabbed to death. He goes to Ruth's room, holding Henshaw, Lopez and Rodriguez at the point of his gun, and directs her to come out. John, with Ruth's help, ties up the three men and he and Ruth ride away."

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE.

Around the curve they rode in silence. The roadway had been blasted from solid rock; an eighteen foot gash around the mountainside. The horses lagged to a tired walk again.

And then Ruth spoke. "We won't quarrel about your fancies," she said.

If John Moore has been an impatient small boy her tone would have suppressed him. But he was not—and the tone did nothing of the sort.

"You can't quarrel with me about anything," he told her. "And especially about the only little cave in sight!"

"Oh! It isn't the cave I object to! It's the way you twist things into meaning other things that they don't mean at all! I mean—Oh, you know perfectly well what I mean. This cave has been here forever."

"That is what I said—exactly."

"You know it isn't! The Indians arm dropped to his side. He spoke slowly. "I love you," he said. "I believe I was born and have lived to love you; to serve you at your need. I believed it almost from the first moment I saw you. I think I suspected it when I met the Ambassador in Sasabe."

"And I believe that some day you will know as I know now, about you and me. Wait!" as she turned to him.

"I'm not asking anything of you now; I know you are too exhausted to think about anything. But your speaking of those other things you did before me made me think of them. I think of them! Leave those other things to me!"

"I'll try," said the girl tremulously.

"And, Mr. Moore—"

"Yes!" said John Moore.

"I am too tired to think clearly tonight, but I know that there is something between you and me. It made me trust you from the first and depend upon you, as I am doing now! But I don't know what it means, and Oh, please, I am so tired!"

John Moore rode very straight and tall in his saddle, the cold rain upon his bare head; a stinging tumultuous exaltation in every fibre of him. He had received his accolade.

"Bless you for saying that, you Princess!" he said. "Only you would have done it! Bless you!"

The tenderness in his voice wrapped her around as with a garment against the night and the wind, the rain, and her fears, even against himself.

"I want a fire!" she pleaded. "Even if it has to be in your old cave!"

"You have it!" he promised her. "Come on, let's ride!"

"But what if we pass it?" laughed the girl, as the horses began to trot. "In the dark."

"We'll have a little lightning in a moment. There!" he boasted, "right ahead here. I knew we were near it."

"You did not," scoffed the girl. "You didn't know until—"

"Right here we stop!" John swung off his horse and came to her side.

"How do you know?" protested the girl.

"I know everything," interrupted John Moore with buoyant impudence, "now down with you, young lady!"

"I'd laugh if your cave—"

"You won't get a chance to laugh at my cave. Miss Impertinence! On your feet! Now, stand here."

A match flared in the cupped hollow of his hands. "Look!" he vaunted. "A perfectly good cave!"

"It's awfully little," protested the girl, in mock derision, "and we'll have to stoop down to enter."

"A little humility will be good for you, young lady! Here, stand still while I bring your saddle."

She waited where he had left her. Just inside the cave entrance. She heard him talking to the horses in cheerful, clipped phrases, and then he was back with the saddle, the stirrups striking the rocks on the cave floor. Again a match flared and went out.

"Fine, fine!" he said. "This place at my feet was invented for a saddle-upholstered chair. Give me your hand—this way—you and I seem always to be leading each other about in the dark. Remember in the church at Tubutama? I'll bring in the other saddle and the bags."

"Your precious twigs!" she said.

"Right."

Weary and chilled, huddled there in the dark on her saddle she began to shiver with the cold.

He brought in the leather bags and the saddle and put them down only to go out again. "In two shakes I'll have some wood up here," she heard him call.

The rain beat a dreary tattoo upon the hard road and the numbing cold crept to her brain. She had scarcely a conscious thought; she was simply waiting for John Moore.

In the next lightning glow she saw him across the road dragging a small tree up from the slope below. He dragged it into the cave and the branches filled the low archway.

"Now," he said, "we'll have a fire! Thoughtful of the fellows who made this road to cut this stuff and leave it for us! If you'll hold a match—" She took the lighted match from his fingers with her own shaking ones.

"Jewel!" he cried sharply.

"Isn't it silly?" she laughed weakly between chattering teeth. "While you were gone I fell to shivering. It was so cold and the dark and all."

John Moore made no reply. He knelt on one knee examining in the light of the match the pages of a little loose-leaf notebook. Some he passed over, some he tore out and crumpled up. "Light another match," he said.

"What are you doing that for?" Ruth asked. "We have those dry twigs you picked up. They'll only take a little longer."

The Theater

"Movie stars are at the state where vaudeville actors were when I was one, fifteen or twenty years ago," says Will Rogers, cowboy, humorist, lecturer, actor, screen star and comedian, in Photoplay Magazine. "In those days everyone of us was making payments on a big diamond ring, generally yellow. Yes, and a horseshoe pin. If we went to see an agent the first thing he saw coming through the door was the ring. It wasn't vanity. I really thought it was furthering me in the estimation of people who saw it."

"Well, the movie stars are at photograph and handsome theater stage now with automobiles, they think their success will be judged by the price of the car they drive. It took us actors about five years to find that there wasn't anybody wearing those rings except us and the gamblers. The movie actors will wake up some day."

Beauty and roses are like ham and eggs, or corned beef and cabbage, usually served together. In this case, the beauty is Billie Dove. And who, if you ask us, has a better right to play the lead in the new photoplay "American Beauty?"

day to find that there's nobody making that kind of display but them and the bootleggers."

Rogers' summing up of the motion picture situation would imply that he thinks that the movies are still in the hey-day of the overwhelming success that has greeted them and will eventually settle down to normalcy.

This is no doubt true. The movies were first swept to success by the novelty of pictures that would move on the screen and neither story nor photography was necessary. Then people began to become accustomed to the movies and demanded more entertainment. Better stories, improvements in Photoplay critics have further furnished inspiration for this column today by voting on the six best pictures of the past month. Here are the movies they picked: "Love"; "The Student Prince"; "The Wind"; "Mile-a-Minute Love"; "Two Arabian Knights"; and "Rose of the Golden West".

The same critics handed out the brass medals for the best performances of the month as follows: Lillian Gish in "The Wind"; Greta Garbo and Jack Gilbert in "Love"; Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland in "Rose of the Golden West"; William Boyd and Louise Wolheim in "Two Arabian Knights"; Janet La Verne in "Mile-a-Minute Love"; Alleen Pringle in "Tea for Three"; and Ivan Petrovitch in "The Garden of Allah."
